TROUBLES RANGING TO CIVIL WARFARE IN SOUTH AMERICA

Tension Acute in Six Countries With International and Domestic Disputes Keeping Turmoil Continuous—Brazil in Actual Throes of War

BUENOS AIRES, July 21 (AP).—Public tension was acute in six South American countries today, and it ranged all the way from international dispute to armed civil warfare. The countries involved were:

Brazil, in the throes of civil war precipitated by a demand by the State of Sao Paulo for speedy return to constitutional government.

ANCIENT DISPUTE
Bolivia and Paraguay, aroused against each other anew in their bitter fifty-year-old dispute which has made Chaco territory between them famous.

Chile, with a new Socialist Government under Carlos Davis, and confronted with a possible crisis in his Cabinet.

Peru, just past two revolts within the month and planning military expeditions "in order to fight and destroy those who are able to carry on such outrages."

POLITICAL UNREST
Argentina, slightly involved in the Chaco dispute, because her border touches that jungle wilderness, and worried with political unrest.

Brazil's civil conflict continued to ripen as Federal forces of the provisional president, Getulio Vargas, increased their troops north and south of the rebel State of Sao Paulo for a major offensive.

STATE OF SIEGE
Anti-Paraguayan war fever in Bolivia reached the highest pitch in history of the Chaco dispute this week, when the Paraguayan captured for Carlos Antonio Lopez in the Chaco. So inflamed was La Paz, the capital, that a state of siege was declared.

Paraguay, which terminated peace negotiations in Washington when Bolivia occupied that northern "revenue capture" as restoring the former status quo, and ordered her consiliators to remain in the United States.

SHUTDOWN OF MILLS FORCED

Workers, Owners and Police See Power Cut Off Without Protest

HIGH POINT, N.C., July 21.—Twenty leaders of "wrecking crews" which closed down virtually every manufacturing plant in five North Carolina towns Tuesday, were in jail tonight while the High Point area slowly recovered from one of the strangest strikes on record.

SHUT OFF POWER
While a bona fide strike of 6,000 hoist workers was at its height, the "wrecking crews," composed mainly of unemployed men, but with a sprinkling of strikers, marched from mill to mill, shutting off the power and forcing the shutdown of more than 100 plants and the temporary idleness of between 5,000 and 10,000 operatives.

There was no disorder. Police, armed with tear bombs, stood on the sidelines and watched the hoodlums take control of factory after factory.

NO COMPLAINT
There was no complaint from mill owners. When the "wrecking crews" arrived and shut off the power, the workers in the various plants rolled down their sleeves, put on their coats and left their posts rather than risk violence at the hands of the invaders.

Police were in a quandary. No laws were being broken. There was no violence. The workers didn't seem to mind, and neither did the mill owners.

But once the law did take a hand, it moved with dispatch. Warrants charging inciting to riot were issued yesterday, and late last night the roundup began.

Pays Striking Tribute to Patriotism of J. Thomas

OTTAWA, July 21 (CP).—Rt. Hon. "Jimmy" Thomas nearly "stole the show" at tonight's State dinner.

A special toast was proposed by Prime Minister Bennett to the British Secretary for Dominion Affairs, a striking tribute from Mr. Bennett to the singular patriotism of Mr. Thomas. The Rt. Hon. "Jimmy" was soon on his feet.

The most amusing versions of speeches of the previous speakers from all parts of the Commonwealth were then given by Mr. Thomas. These versions, he explained had been given by him to his immediate neighbors, who had

Preparing for Greater Empire Unity

Bennett Starts March Of United British Empire To Common Goal of Wealth

Delegates to Conference Express Loyalty to His Majesty

OTTAWA, July 21 (CP).—Delegates to the Imperial Conference today passed a resolution of loyalty to the King without specifically mentioning the word "loyalty." Officials denied the word had been deleted to meet the wishes of the Irish Free State representatives. The first draft of the resolution had been acceptable to all, they said.

The resolution, sponsored by Premier R. B. Bennett of Canada and Sir Atul Chatterjee, of India, read as follows: "The representatives of the Governments of the British Commonwealth assembled in conference at Ottawa, at their first meeting and as their first official act, desire to present their respectful duty to the King and to thank him for his gracious message which has just been read by His Excellency the Governor-General. They join in thanking for Your Majesty's continued health, and earnestly hope that Your Majesty and Her Majesty the Queen may long be spared to strengthen the feelings of love and devotion shared by all the peoples of the British Commonwealth of Nations."

Official Dinner to Empire Delegations Is Brilliant Event

Many Famous Men Gather as Guests of Canada—Scene Is Impressive—Beautiful Gowns Add Color to Background—Speeches Brief

OTTAWA, July 21 (CP).—While hundreds of candles blinked on bright green tablecloths, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada, tonight welcomed once again the delegates to the Imperial Economic Conference. In a setting of rare beauty, nearly seven hundred distinguished guests from all parts of the British Empire joined in good fellowship. It was the first Government dinner, and Canada gave of her best.

The scene was one which impressed itself upon men's memory. Green was the prevailing color. Along the side of the great dining room the long head-table, covered with its green damask and ornamented with a lavish display of silver and flowers, focused attention. Off from it ran eleven other shorter tables, each covered with the same green covering. Around the great room, in the soft light of the hundreds of twinkling candles, fitted scores of white-clad waiters. From the balconies, where an overflow gathering was seated, music came.

NOTABLE GATHERING
At the tables sat men famous in the history of the British Empire. The centre figure at the head table, Prime Minister Bennett, sat under a group of flags—the flags of all the sister nations in the British Commonwealth represented at the conference. Down the long table were the heads of the delegations—Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, the Irish Free State, Newfoundland and Southern Rhodesia. Interspersed with these leaders were their wives and also members of the Dominion Government.

Beautiful dresses shimmering forth all the colors of the rainbow, shone out against the background of conventional black and white worn by the men. No uniforms were worn.

HELD UP THE BANK
PICKENS, S.C., July 21.—Four men held up the South Carolina State Bank here this afternoon, and escaped with cash and currency estimated at about $20,000.

CONFERENCE SETTLES DOWN TO MAPPING OUT ITS WORK

Real Democracy Aided His Rise To High Position

OTTAWA, July 21 (CP).—There is no other nation but the British nation where a humble engine cleaner could rise to the position which I have the honor to hold. This remark came from Rt. Hon. "Jimmy" Thomas, British Secretary for the Dominions, at the State dinner to-night. He was replying to a special toast proposed to him by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett.

COMMITTEES TO BE STRUCK TO DEAL WITH FIVE MAIN SUBJECTS OF CONSIDERATION AT OTTAWA BY DELEGATES OF EMPIRE—Premier Bennett's Proposals Keenly Discussed

Climax Day Unparalleled In History of Dominion

OTTAWA, July 21 (CP).—The Imperial Economic Conference today passed swiftly, from opening declaration of policy to the less impressive consideration of methods of work. Heads of delegations met and decided to appoint five committees:

1. Promotion of trade within the Commonwealth.
2. Customs administration.
3. Commercial relations with foreign countries.
4. Monetary and financial questions.
5. Methods of economic co-operation.

No appointments to the committees were made. Each delegation is to meet separately, decide on its nominees, then formal appointments will be made.

Meanwhile all delegates are keenly discussing the offer of wider preferences with which Premier Bennett opened the conference. The seven ministers of the British delegation are to hold a series of "Cabinet" sessions to examine the Bennett proposal in all its implications.

WHEAT AND MEAT
Under the present British tariff system, wheat and meat are on the free list. Imports of wheat and meat from the Dominions therefore receive no tariff preference in the British market. Mr. Bennett proposed the United Kingdom "shall extend the principle of her tariff preferences to natural products."

Wheat and meat are not specifically mentioned, but they obviously come within the scope of the Bennett scheme.

There possibly will lie the chief problem of the British delegation in determination of its attitude. For the moment, however, the British content themselves with reiteration of Mr. Bennett's words at the opening session—that the British delegation will study the proposal sympathetically on the lines laid down by Mr. Bennett, that they will do their utmost to "co-operate with good will to accomplish the purpose he has in view."

UNPARALLELED DAY
Mr. Bennett's proposals climaxed a day without parallel in the history of the Dominion. Delegates from the nations of the Empire had gathered in the Memorial Chamber of the Peace Tower and there, in homage to Canada's dead, had laid wreaths on the Altar of Remembrance.

The chamber of the House of Commons presented such a scene as has not been known before. Premier Bennett and the Canadian delegation in the seats of the Government; facing them, in what are normally the seats of the Opposition, a former British Prime Minister, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, five other members of the British Cabinet; and on either side, the seats of members of the House of Commons.

SUDDEN STORM CLAIMS LIVES
Wind Swamps Many Small Boats on Lake in Michigan

PONTIAC, Mich., July 21.—A sudden windstorm, sweeping down on scores of boats who had sought refuge from the heat on Pontiac Lake, swamped an undetermined number of small boats tonight and reports of missing persons indicated ten drowned. Other estimates ranged as high as fourteen.

Attempts to drag the lake were halted by darkness, with electric lines disrupted by the storm, after one body had been recovered. The search will be resumed tomorrow.

CAR IS UNCLAIMED
An automobile in which five Detroit negroes came to the lake this afternoon was found unclaimed late tonight and its occupants are believed to have gone down in the storm. Four Pontiac negroes had not returned to their homes from the lake.

Witnesses said they saw four persons, believed to be negroes, floundering in the water shortly after the car was found. Two small boats were found battered to driftwood against a dam. Five small boats were still unaccounted for.

SELLING MILK CHEAP
LOS ANGELES, July 21.—The declining price of milk in Los Angeles today reached the phenomenal low of from 1 to 3 cents a quart in a number of hotly competing independent and chain groceries. Branches of one chain company sold milk at two quarts for 5 cents.

COMMITTED TO DRAFT
Subsequently the United States delegate's vote was explained by the assertion he already had been committed to the draft text of the declaration.

This text was assailed from many quarters, but important portions of it, calling for substantial reduction in air forces and land armaments, survived intact.

Sections of the declaration asserting the primary objective of the conference was to reduce means of attack, prohibiting air attacks against civilians and abolishing all aerial bombardment, with certain reservations, were among those approved. Tomorrow the conference will go ahead with other details of the declaration.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—President Hoover signed into law today the United States Federal relief plan that masses $3,800,000,000 in one offer for investigating business, increasing employment and relieving human destitution.

Operating funds of the Reconstruction Corporation are increased from $2,000,000,000 to $3,800,000,000, and $300,000,000 is available for advances to states for unemployment relief; $1,500,000,000 is on tap for public construction and self-liquidating private loans, and the financing of agriculture through credit corporations.

The sum of $120,000,000 is available for advances to states under the Federal-Aid Highway Law; $16,000,000 will go to roads and trails in the national parks and forests; $166,224,000 is available for public buildings and waterway improvement.

FAIR CATTLE ENTRIES BIG

Livestock Will Be Shipped From Widely Separated Parts of Country

Indicating the widespread interest that is being taken in this year's British Columbia Agricultural Association exhibition, W. H. Mearns, secretary, announced yesterday several more important entries in the livestock section.

These entries are from widely scattered parts of the country and are supplementary to the Mainland entries announced on Mr. Mearns' return from the Fraser River Valley.

H. E. Burbridge, of Royal Oak, is sending twenty head of cattle to the show, while an important string of cattle is coming from Alberta. More definite information is expected to be received regarding this entry later, it was stated.

Others who have announced their intention of sending cattle are: Captain Watson, of Sidney, twelve head of cattle; Captain Gibson, of Sidney, twelve head of cattle; D. F. Burge, of Albany, Ore., sixteen head of horses and a six-horse team; H. Thompson, of Fairlight, Saskatchewan, twenty head of Jersey cattle; Charles Yule, of Carstairs, Alta., twenty head of Shorthorns; Dr. Mann, of Langley, B.C., twelve head of Jersey and a string of polo ponies and other horses from the Cowichan Riding Club.

A lot of heavy horses from Up-Island points will be sent here for the Horse Show held in conjunction with the fair, Mr. Mearns stated.

SOUTH AFRICA APPROVES PLAN

Favors Preferential Empire Trade Through Lowered Tariff Walls

OTTAWA, July 21 (CP).—Material adjustment in Empire trade relations as a result of the conference was foreseen by N. C. Havenga, head of the South African delegation to the Empire meeting. The South African Minister of Finance said it was the conference's duty to see how far tariff walls could be lowered and where preferential duties could be made through these walls.

Restoration of the gold standard, Mr. Havenga considered, would be a forward step in the direction of world economic progress.

HOPES FOR SUCCESS

He mentioned negotiations toward a trade agreement with Canada had been proceeding for some months past and said it was hoped they would reach a satisfactory conclusion.

"I take this early opportunity of repeating what the South African delegates affirmed in 1930, that in general the Union approves of the extension of the Empire's tariff walls, and by agreement embodying reciprocal tariff benefits."

"Tariff walls are inevitable, but it is our duty today to see how far they can be lowered, or where preferential duties can be made through these walls, in order that trade now hampered thereby may recover some freedom of movement."

with delegates and advisers from all the far corners of the British Commonwealth.

BENNETT'S PROPOSALS

On the assumption effective operation of the agreement would not be impaired by unfair competition, Mr. Bennett, on behalf of Canada, proposed to grant to the United Kingdom:

1. Extension of the free list.
2. Retention of the existing preferences in favor of Great Britain.
3. Increased preferences in respect of a select list of articles in which Great Britain is especially equipped to supply the Canadian market without incurring efficient Canadian enterprise.

In exchange, Canada asked:

1. The retention of existing preferences.
2. Their effective extension to those other natural and primary products of which the United Kingdom is an importer.

TO WHOLE EMPIRE

The proposal was directed to the United Kingdom, but, in principle, Mr. Bennett added, "it is offered to all other parts of the Empire wherever its application will be mutually advantageous."

In the subsequent speeches by heads of delegations, special interest was attached to that of Sean O'Kelly, leader of the Irish Free State delegation. Great Britain and the Irish Free State, as a sequel to President de Valera's refusal to transfer land annuities, have lately embarked on a form of tariff war.

SPECIAL DIFFICULTIES

"Special difficulties," Mr. O'Kelly said, "have recently arisen which affect about 85 per cent of our external trade and which may involve substantial changes in the form and direction of that trade, as well as in the economic structure of the country."

"We seek," Mr. O'Kelly added, "to put an end to the anomaly of one-sided development which has caused a country relatively rich in natural resources to be the one country in Europe whose population has steadily decreased for almost a century."

Heads of delegations met again tomorrow.

MESSAGE FROM KING

His Excellency the Governor-General read the following message from the King to the assembled Imperial Economic Conference today:

"My thoughts and prayers are with the delegates of my Commonwealth who are gathered in conference today to explore the means by which they may promote the unity and prosperity of the peoples of this great Empire."

"At this conference you are opening a new page of history, which, within a few weeks, will be written the record of a determined effort to solve the difficulties weighing so heavily on the Empire, and upon the whole world. It is my earnest hope that when this conference rises there will be a record of results worthy of reflecting the frankness, the sincerity and the spirit of helpfulness with which I feel confident your deliberations will be conducted."

"The British Empire is based on the principles of co-operation, and it is now your common purpose to give the fullest possible effect to those principles in the economic sphere. By so doing you will set in motion beneficial forces within the British Commonwealth which may well extend their impulse also to the world at large. I pray that you will give clear insight and strength of purpose for these ends."

GOV. GENERAL'S SPEECH

The speech of the Governor-General, opening the conference, was as follows:

"Having delivered to you this Majesty's message, I now have the privilege, on behalf of the Government and people of Canada, of welcoming to the capital city of this Dominion those of you who come from overseas."

"My Government appreciated very deeply the cordial manner in which other governments throughout the Empire have accepted their invitation to send representatives to Ottawa, and I know that that that appreciation."

"You come here, therefore, as the honored guests of Canada. But, gentlemen, you all meet here—guests and host alike—burdened with great responsibilities; you meet today as the chosen trustees of Empire, knowing that your deliberations will materially affect the future welfare of millions."

"Thirty-four years ago, it fell to my predecessor, Lord Aberdeen, to welcome here a distinguished assembly of delegates from the British Empire overseas, but that gathering was a Colonial Conference and not an Imperial Conference as are the meetings initiated today."

UNITED BY WAR

"When in 1914 war shattered the peace of the whole world, our common ideals were subjected to their sternest test; they emerged from that unimpaird, for the units of the Empire, united, perhaps, as they never had been before, gave freely of their best to serve the common cause."

"Today, though the shadow of war is not upon us, we are still faced by the inevitable consequences of war; the economic crisis, under the load of which the whole world staggers, is its most bitter legacy."

"It is my hope, gentlemen, as all hope it may, results that will strengthen the Empire to surmount the difficulties which this troubled world is passing through. I humbly trust that the Empire, in saving itself by its own united efforts, may not save the whole world by its example."

"In places of worship of every denomination throughout this Dominion, prayers are being offered up to Almighty God for your guidance at this conference. I humbly join the people of Canada in their prayers for Divine blessing upon your deliberations."

Following the nomination of Premier R. B. Bennett as chairman, Mr. Bennett spoke as follows:

"In the past Canada's manufactured products have enjoyed a measure of protection, though at times it has been by some not wholly adequate measure of protection, in the home market," Mr. Bennett stated. "Our natural products have enjoyed free use or no fiscal advantage over those of other countries in Empire markets. It is now our hope to secure it for them. Inasmuch as the ideal application of the principle of protection involved an equalization of benefits thereunder as between manufactured and natural products, it is the desire of this Government to effect that equalization and to find a way for our exporters into Empire markets by giving the exports from those markets a way into ours."

RECIPROCAL AGREEMENTS

"Under our prevailing tariff system Canada is equipped to make this readjustment. The United Kingdom, through its tariff preferences and their application in principle to natural products, will be similarly equipped. We, therefore, propose that the United Kingdom shall extend the principle of its present tariff preferences to natural products. And on our own part, we are prepared to make the necessary adjustments in our tariffs to secure the advantages which we believe will come from this arrangement."

"These Canadian industries which now have ready access to protective tariffs and are competing in world markets must support this proposal because of the advantages to be obtained by the exporters of natural products. And they will support it, for it is clear that to the country as a whole there will come as a result an increased prosperity in which they cannot fail to fully share."

"I have said before, and I do not desire to minimize the fact, that Canada must have greater export markets for its natural products."

NATURAL RESOURCES

"No country can live upon itself in this complex age, and with our relatively small population, our vast and varied natural resources, with our immense export surplus in natural products, we must have access to other markets than our own."

"The Dominion of Canada has always enjoyed free entry into the markets of the United Kingdom. That free entry has been for products which, generally speaking, did not come in competition with their own. We now propose that the United Kingdom have free entry into Canada for her products which do not injuriously affect Canadian enterprise. Canada, in the days when its industrial structure was less strong than it is now, granted to the United Kingdom preferences in her markets. Those preferences we now propose to increase in respect to a selected list of commodities in which Great Britain is especially equipped to supply the Canadian market, and we will ask that for those natural and produced products which comprise the most important part of our exports, we be given a preference. The proposal to us seems a just and reasonable one."

"This Government has tested the soundness of our proposal by the means most likely to determine it. By this arrangement our standard of living will be enhanced. By this arrangement the consumer will be safeguarded against an unwarrantable increase in the cost of commodities. If we apply the same test to the situation in the United Kingdom, we believe that they will provide the same answer, for inasmuch as this project aims equally to distribute the benefits to both sides, it will prove to be beneficial to citizens in both communities of both countries."

PROHIBITION OF FOREIGN MONEY

MADRID, July 21 (AP).—An order prohibiting possession of foreign money by citizens and foreigners in Spain was issued today by the Government Banking Council.

All persons who receive foreign money, whether as salaries or otherwise, must hereafter take it to the bank and exchange it for pesetas at the day's rate.

People of Britain have purchased more than 1,100,000,000 National Savings Certificates.

WHAT CAUSES BLOOD PRESSURE?

One of the main causes of blood pressure is acidosis, which results from eating excessively of acid-forming foods such as refined grains, meats, fish, eggs, fats and sugars.

To prevent, eat alkali-forming foods such as steamed vegetables, fruits, milk, almonds, salads, egg yolks—and Roman Meal, the only alkaline grain food known.

At 50 my own pressure was 215 and my heart threatened to stop. I was told by a friend, a doctor, in the sun, eating fruits, etc., and Roman Meal, my pressure at 74 is 130. I can run five miles and work 90 hours a week without tiring.

And do not think that you can become careless of your diet in Summer. To withstand the heat—to stand up to resistance for Winter—keep your blood normally alkaline. Eat fruit, vegetables, etc., and stick to your Roman Meal.

HOPES OF CANADA

"What do we hope for from this conference? The answer is, I think, from all of us, greater markets within the Empire. This is the answer from all of us undoubtedly, if we are persuaded, as I am, that greater Empire markets means as well as greater world markets for us in Canada closer Empire economic association does not mean in any sense world dissociation. The trading potentialities of this Empire are great. But even one-quarter of the human race cannot profitably shut itself off from contact with the rest of the world."

"When we reach an agreement by which our products pass more freely from one Empire country to another, we drive clear channels through the stagnant pools dammed up by world upheaval, and naturally will carry past the boundaries of the Empire and to its benefit, establish once again throughout the world that commerce which is its very lifeblood. The British people in their small industry and experience have nothing to fear from foreign competition when they are united in that economic association which is now possible. When from this conference that results, we will welcome fair and friendly competition. In our interest we will welcome it."

RECIPROCAL AGREEMENTS

"In the past Canada's manufactured products have enjoyed a measure of protection, though at times it has been by some not wholly adequate measure of protection, in the home market," Mr. Bennett stated. "Our natural products have enjoyed free use or no fiscal advantage over those of other countries in Empire markets. It is now our hope to secure it for them. Inasmuch as the ideal application of the principle of protection involved an equalization of benefits thereunder as between manufactured and natural products, it is the desire of this Government to effect that equalization and to find a way for our exporters into Empire markets by giving the exports from those markets a way into ours."

UNITED BY WAR

"When in 1914 war shattered the peace of the whole world, our common ideals were subjected to their sternest test; they emerged from that unimpaird, for the units of the Empire, united, perhaps, as they never had been before, gave freely of their best to serve the common cause."

"Today, though the shadow of war is not upon us, we are still faced by the inevitable consequences of war; the economic crisis, under the load of which the whole world staggers, is its most bitter legacy."

"It is my hope, gentlemen, as all hope it may, results that will strengthen the Empire to surmount the difficulties which this troubled world is passing through. I humbly trust that the Empire, in saving itself by its own united efforts, may not save the whole world by its example."

GOV. GENERAL'S SPEECH

The speech of the Governor-General, opening the conference, was as follows:

"Having delivered to you this Majesty's message, I now have the privilege, on behalf of the Government and people of Canada, of welcoming to the capital city of this Dominion those of you who come from overseas."

"My Government appreciated very deeply the cordial manner in which other governments throughout the Empire have accepted their invitation to send representatives to Ottawa, and I know that that that appreciation."

"You come here, therefore, as the honored guests of Canada. But, gentlemen, you all meet here—guests and host alike—burdened with great responsibilities; you meet today as the chosen trustees of Empire, knowing that your deliberations will materially affect the future welfare of millions."

"Thirty-four years ago, it fell to my predecessor, Lord Aberdeen, to welcome here a distinguished assembly of delegates from the British Empire overseas, but that gathering was a Colonial Conference and not an Imperial Conference as are the meetings initiated today."

VISITING PARTY ENJOYS VICTORIA

A. Canham, a Director of British Group, Tells of Objects of Organization

The British National Union party will today complete its visit in this city, leaving at noon for the Mainland. The members all express their delight with the reception accorded them in Victoria.

Yesterday they inspected some of the industrial works about the city including the loganberry processing factory of R. S. Twining. Today at lunch they will have the opportunity of testing out the product of the factory, which is catering to the British trade.

A Canham, who is a director of the organization, explains that the object of the body is to bring producers from the various parts of the Empire together. The trips are not made for the sake of making money or as joy rides, but are designed to make the residents of the Empire better acquainted with what each part has to offer.

Mr. Canham comes from the same part of England as His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province, and was glad to renew acquaintance with him on the visit here. Mr. Canham was in the newspaper business in South Africa and later became trade commissioner before entering into this work, which was originally organized by a South African, Sir Pieter Stewart-Bau.

THE LAUSANNE SETTLEMENT

Under the agreement respecting the reparations problem the Young Plan is scrapped. German liability is reduced to approximately $750,000,000, but this is not to be capitalized for at least three years. In fact, there is an elasticity about the settlement. Germany is to capitalize the fund, "when she is able to do so," and it is to form "a general reserve for credit to aid distressed European states to further the economic restoration of international trade and exchange." The fund will be put in charge of the Bank of International Settlements. The bond issue will be sold at 90, which means that the new indemnity account will in reality be somewhere in the neighborhood of $675,000,000. It appears, too, that if the issue cannot be made within the next fifteen years, the claim for reparations will be dropped.

There are the economic factors which it is hoped the new settlement will promote. There is the fixed sum as between Germany and the other Powers concerned. There is to be fiscal assistance given to Austria and the other Danubian States. A commission is to be created to study the grain problem arising from a surplusage of wheat in the Danubian belt. Plans are laid for a world economic conference under the aegis of the League of Nations. The preamble to the Lausanne agreement reads: "The Powers that have signed this treaty do not claim that the accomplishment at Lausanne, which will completely put an end to reparations, can by itself assure the era of peace which all nations desire; but they hope that these accomplishments, so ardently attained, will be followed by fresh achievements."

DAIRYING TRADE OPPORTUNITIES

In some statistics printed in The Grocer (London), there is an indication of a trade which this Dominion can develop under reciprocal or preferential advantages likely to arise out of the present Imperial Conference. Britain now imports more butter (by value) than any other single commodity. The butter imports of Britain in 1931 amounted to $8,071,000 cwt., valued at £46,358,000. Of this total the rest of the Empire provided only 50 per cent. Denmark is the chief supplier, sending Britain 31 per cent of her total butter requirements; New Zealand sent 24 per cent. The butter sent to Britain by Canada, which used to be a substantial item, dried up a few years ago. The trade was resumed in 1931, and in that year amounted to 28,000 cwt. Other Empire countries which increased their exports of butter to the United Kingdom were South Africa and Kenya.

There are indications that Canada can supply the British market with a certain amount of butter, and no doubt there will be arrangements made whereby that trade within the Empire can be increased. This year there are wholesome signs of growing dairying activity in the Dominion. Manitoba in June produced 183,159 pounds of creamery butter, or an increase of 7.7 per cent over June of 1931. Saskatchewan in May produced 1,903,669 pounds, an increase of 4.8 per cent over May of last year. The facilities exist for taking advantage of a greater overseas trade. With adequate protection in the British market there is every reason to hope that this country can take advantage of a trade, over 50 per cent of which is now supplied from other than Empire sources.

CEYLON'S HOPES

Ceylon is one of the parts of Empire expecting substantial trade advantages from the discussions of the present Imperial Conference. What is sought is such arrangements as will give British grown tea preferential treatment throughout the Empire. Ceylon hopes through this means to recapture the Australian market and to place its product more widely in other parts of the Imperial domain. At present the outlook for Ceylon's tea planters is depressing. In an attempt to rectify it, prior to any decision to be reached at Ottawa, there is an intensive publicity campaign planned for the tea grown there. If that effort can be implemented by preferential arrangements so much the better. Otherwise the prospect in Ceylon is one of a restricted output, something that it should not be necessary to contemplate, for that is a method of fostering unemployment.

A BREACH OF FAITH

Mr. Lloyd George regards the Irish Land Annulment as a moral and legal obligation on the part of Ireland. He says there is no analogy whatever between the attitude of Mr. de Valera in his intention to repudiate payment and default by some countries in Europe which are anxious to pay debts but cannot. Mr. de Valera, he says, is going to collect these annuities. He does not claim Ireland is in a bad way and cannot pay them. On the contrary, he is going to keep them in the Free State's Treasury.

The Irish Land Annulment arose because of the desire to enable Irish tenants to become the owners of their homes. The British Government of the day, at the request of Irish members of Parliament, brought in a Bill to raise the necessary money. It was raised at a low rate of interest to sell their holdings to the Irish peasants. So that the rate of interest might be low the British Government guaranteed the Bill on the credit of Great Britain and Ireland. As Mr. Lloyd George now says, the attitude assumed by Mr. de Valera is, "we are not going to pay. I am going to collect the money, but I will not pay those holders of stock, it may be in Britain, it may be in Ireland, it may be in America." Mr. de Valera knows that Britain will not break faith, that even if the Irish Free State gambles up the money, the British Government will pay the stockholders. In concluding his argument on the issue during the discussion in the British House of Commons Mr. Lloyd George said: "I do not believe the Irish people will subscribe to that libel on their fundamental integrity. Let him (Mr. de Valera) bear in mind the lesson of Australia. Great peoples do not show their love of freedom and their national self-respect by playing the part of debtors of that kind. I know the difficulties the Government has—gigantic difficulties outside, and great difficulties here and in Ireland. I hope whatever the difficulties it is not going to allow itself to be nagged into consenting to a breach of faith, or the initiation of a policy which will be a source of danger both to this country and to Ireland."

GREENLAND AND EMPIRE

Norway's revived claim to the right to occupy a wider area of land in Eastern Greenland is a continuation of a dispute that has been in progress with Denmark since 1814. Trade in Greenland has been considered a monopoly of the Danish Crown since 1774. In effect, Denmark has been supposed to own and control the country, but never with Norway's acquiescence. Last year Denmark appealed to the Permanent Court of Justice at The Hague, following the holding of the Norwegian flag at Myggtubba in the centre of an uninhabited region of Greenland's east coast, which is rich in game and which has mineral possibilities. The decision of the court has not yet been given, and now Norway has ordered a wider occupation of the disputed territory.

The present trouble, according to the Norwegian version, has arisen because Denmark has given police authority to her expeditions to East Greenland, and proposes to do the same during the present year. That means such authority would be exercised over Norwegian citizens. Moreover, Norway is incensed over a Danish decision to transfer Eskimos to South Greenland where Norwegians appear to have had a monopoly in the sealing, salmon and fur industries. As a protest the Norwegian Government has hoisted its flag over a strip of land two miles wide between 60.30 and 60.40 degrees N., an area which it maintains will not be considered as closed territory. Copenhagen takes the attitude that the area in question is a part of the Danish colonial district.

Greenland has strategic advantages for way stations on an air route from Europe to this continent, and particularly from Britain to Canada. If plans could be devised for an amicable arrangement with Denmark, and the satisfaction of Norwegian claims, it would be an excellent thing if it could be brought under the aegis of the British flag, and thus provide the necessary stepping stones on an All-Red air route across the Atlantic and Canada. It has been surveyed by a British expedition for such a purpose, and its advantages have been discovered. Both the British and Canadian Governments are aware of the facilities offered by Greenland, and it may be that before long the proposal for its acquisition will be made.

Commenting on the Canadian-American Treaty respecting the St. Lawrence, The Montreal Gazette says: "Engineering estimates place the cost of the St. Lawrence waterways development at anywhere between $750,000,000 and $800,000,000, but it will be an astonishing accomplishment if these figures are not exceeded by a quarter or a half or more. Great public works almost invariably cost more than even the most liberal estimates. Both the United States and Canada have had recurring experiences in this respect, and the tremendous St. Lawrence project is not of a nature to prove the exception."

It is the irony of financial fate that the nations which expended the greatest efforts in cornering gold are now the chief economic sufferers. The only saving grace of their present situation is that they have the ability to make the greatest contribution to world recovery.

THE GREAT AMERICAN DEBT

When a British soldier consumed American munitions he served America as he served his own country. It is not obvious that while the Americans were preparing an army which on the concluding phase of the war the munitions they lent the Allies were really saving American soldiers? So far from war debts representing sacrifice by those who lent for the sake of the victor, it was those who supplied the victor who made the real sacrifice. Every British citizen, therefore, is glad to think that British policy after the war pursued the line of equity and declared for the cancellation of war debts—My Magazine (London).

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

The king's name is a tower of strength.

I have touched the highest point of all my greatness.
 And from that full meridian of my story,
 I look now to my setting. I shall fall
 Like a bright exhibition in the evening.
 And no man sees me more.
 Shakespeare.

There was no doubt in the mind of Pat's wife as to what Pat would be at if she happened to die. "You remember the song: 'I know you Pat, what you'd be at; you'd marry your widdy's sister.' There is a paradoxical, possibly a humorous, aspect to the Imperial Economic Conference which began its momentous business at Ottawa Thursday morning. We are told that the new aspect of the old Irish situation will not be permitted to mar the harmony of the proceedings of the Conference. The Free State delegation was the first of the Imperial representatives to arrive at the Canadian capital. One of the spokesmen of the delegation has left no doubt upon the minds of the other representatives as to the attitude and the purposes of the Free State representation.

The Imperial Conference is a family gathering. The Free State delegation declares that it is not of the family, but hopes to share in any of the benefits which may accrue from membership in the family. If there should be trouble between Great Britain and the Free State, there is no reason why there should not be a continuation, possibly an extension, of the friendly trade relations between the Free State and Canada. The strained relations between Great Britain and de Valera need not necessarily affect the cordial relations between the Free State and Canada. Of course it may seem paradoxical that a conference of an Imperial family in which there is the most cordial of relations should be chosen as the place to negotiate a treaty which might have the effect of directing attention to and emphasizing the difficulties which have arisen between two of the principal members of the family. In this curious and paradoxical case there may be some doubt in the minds of everybody as to what Pat would be at.

But there is not going to be any trouble at the Conference. The Free State delegates have arrived and have been welcomed just as cordially as if they were what they have declared that they are not—loyal members of the British Imperial family. If they want to take seats in the assembly, their right to do so will not be questioned. No test of their qualifications will be applied. If demonstrations of loyalty to the Crown take place they will participate in them, probably because the Irish people are by taste and inclination incapable of anything savouring of bad manners. An Englishman or a Scotsman might be embarrassed by circumstances which may develop at the meeting, but an Irishman is supreme under any circumstances.

We are told that there will be as many observers of the proceedings of the Conference as there are accredited delegates taking part in the proceedings. If any of the foreign observers are hoping that there may be ructions to observe and to report they will be disappointed. If any attempt be made to project the domestic affairs of Ireland into the discussions, the man in the chair, the Prime Minister of Canada, has the capacity necessary to deal with such a situation. The purpose of the Conference is to deal with problems of trade and commerce and to promote closer and more profitable business relations within the Empire. Political matters are the domestic concern of the various nations and Dominions within the Empire.

Neither the ambitions nor the principles of de Valera with respect to the validity of treaties nor the ordinary custom of meeting contractual obligations can be permitted to intrude upon the proceedings of the Conference. Those are matters entirely between the British government and the Free State government. The issue as between the parties to the dispute is quite clear. The president of the Free State declares that no state can be absolutely free whose freedom is limited to the extent that it may be compelled against its will to take an oath of allegiance to a foreign power and to pay its honest debts. Great Britain has pointed out that there may be certain consequences attached to the ambitions of the Free State president, that if de Valera is bound to carry Southern Ireland out of the British Empire, the Irish people as foreigners must be prepared to do business with Great Britain upon the terms imposed upon the people of all foreign countries.

But there are indications that de Valera feels he has gone too far and would be delighted if he could find an excuse to beat something which could not be called an inglorious retreat. We predict that the trouble between Great Britain and Southern Ireland will be amicably settled and that the erratic career of one of the most irresponsible of political agitators will be brought to an abrupt end by direct action of the Irish people.

Letters to the Editor

As the Editor of this paper has accepted the right to publish letters to the Editor, this rule admits of no exception.

INFLATION

Sir,—It is surprising how few letters appear in your paper dealing with the most important subject, "inflation," or as you prefer, expansion of credits. Our statements ignore it, or speak in a vague way of sound money; meanwhile the country drifts towards bankruptcy, industry languishes and taxes absorb everything. You appear to favor some measure of expansion, but fear that once started it would be carried to extreme limits. Your attitude reminds me of the man who refused a glass of beer, saying, "No, when I drink I get drunk, and when I get drunk I have delirium tremens." There is no necessity for such extremes. France cut loose from the gold standard, then fixed the franc at one-fifth of its former value. That was a drastic measure, but was not followed by any serious results. Something must be done in Canada and America. Conditions will not right themselves. Your Professor Durbin's statement that the depression is abnormal, but there he is mistaken. A normal depression follows an active industrial and speculative period, and prices, which have risen too high, drop; there is a lull which lasts about a year or even two, consumption revives, prices rise and the depression passes away. Many worthy investors have suffered ruinous losses by mistaking the present depression for a normal one.

The underlying cause of this depression is the maldistribution of gold, causing a scarcity of gold, and based on gold. It will not pass away until the scarcity is corrected. There seems no chance for this in the near future. As this scarcity has raised the value of gold, less is required to purchase commodities, so prices have fallen. This scarcity of gold should raise its price in dollars, not in goods. When there would be less gold to the dollar, and prices would not fall. This would be a managed currency. It could still be based on gold, chiefly for international trade settlements. This would be devaluing the dollar, or inflation.

How would it affect the farmer? Prices of farm products, lower in most cases by two-thirds than before the depression, put the farmer at a heavy disadvantage in paying his taxes and no form of "relief" is more practical than reduction of Government expenditure and taxation. Where in addition the farmer has to meet mortgage payments and interest the situation, of course, is very difficult. If the product of three acres is now required to pay charges that the product of one acre paid when they were reduced.

The farmer, in your article on "Inflation," found himself, in some unexplained way, short $10 after an absurdly inadequate inflation of 10 per cent. Now suppose we devalue the dollar in proper relation to the fall in wheat, say 50 per cent, the farmer would receive $20 for his wheat, instead of $10.00, enough to cover extra costs for labor and yet leave him a good profit as his interest would remain the same, and his taxes would be reduced.

I was told by a friend that such a devaluation would be dishonest as it would rob the bond and mortgage holders. He did not think the mortgage holder of farm land would be worse off, as his position is very precarious today with farming unprofitable and land unsaleable. At the end of 1931 the life insurance companies of America reported a surplus of $1,846,000,000. The principal and interest were badly in arrears, yet the companies were not restricting their agents not to foreclose.

Leniency was prompted by the fear of having a vast swamp, with taxes attached, thrown on their hands. Inflation by raising prices would make the farmer prosperous, and mortgages would become valuable assets once again, even if reduced in real value.

OLD-TIME POLITICS

Sir,—In The Colonist of this date, the Note and Comment column by "R.B.D." has a reference to the dismissal of the Semlin Government from office in 1900 by the Prime Minister of the Province, Hon. Thomas R. McInnes. I stand to be corrected in saying that the Semlin Government was not dismissed, as stated by "R.B.D."

In the year 1898 both political parties were known as Government and Opposition. Party politics were not introduced until the fall of that year, when the Liberal-Conservative convention at Vancouver decided that the local Legislature should be divided by Dominion parties. In the provincial election on July 8, 1898, Hon. J. H. Turner, Premier of the Province, was again returned as a member for Victoria. The other successful candidates were being R. Hall, H. D. Helmeke and A. E. McPhillips. As a result of that election, the standing of the parties was Government, 19; Opposition, 19. The Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. Thomas R. McInnes, looked upon the election as an expression of want of confidence in the part of the people, and refused to accept the advice of the Premier, Hon. J. H. Turner and his colleagues in regard to special expenditure of money, and on August 19, the Lieutenant-Governor wrote the Premier asking him and colleagues to hand in their resignations as advisers to the Crown. On the same day Governor McInnes advised the Premier to resign. Hon. Robert Beaven was followed by Hon. J. H. Turner and his colleagues. "I have the honor to inform you that by letter of even date herewith I have received the Hon. J. H. Turner and his colleagues resigning their functions as my advisers and members of my executive council. This action I have taken in view of the result of the general election held on the ninth of last month. This is probably the most important period yet known in the development of the resources of the province, and during the month that has elapsed since the said general election, I have deeply felt the need of advisers in whom I could place full confidence, and whose recommendations I could unhesitatingly approve, and knowing your thorough knowledge of the special needs and requirements of the Province, and having in view your long and honorable experience throughout a quarter of a century in the administration of its affairs, and regarding you moreover as peculiarly fit to reconcile its conflicting political factions, I hereby call upon you to assume the task of forming a ministry, and to act as chief adviser to the representative of the Crown.

(Signed) THOMAS R. MCINNES, Lieutenant-Governor.

Hon. Mr. Beaven had unsuccessfully stood as an Independent Opposition candidate in Victoria City at the recent July general election, and had polled the lowest number of votes. The Opposition, at their post-election convention, was directed to elect Hon. Mr. Beaven as C. A. Semlin, and "Fighting Joe" Martin, and unable to agree as to which should be chief, Hon. Mr. Beaven was asked to assume responsibility to form his Government. On August 12, Hon. Mr. Beaven waited upon the Lieutenant-Governor by appointment, at the Parliament Building, and asked to be relieved of the task of forming a government, and his Honor at once communicated with Mr. C. A. Semlin, who had remained in the city to await the shaping of events, requesting him to assume the task. Mr. Semlin accepted, and in forming his Government, Mr. Semlin retained the administration of the Public Works Department, Mr. Carter Cotton being appointed Finance Minister, and Mr. Joseph Martin, who at first refused to join the ministry, waived his personal ambition for the time being and accepted the post of Attorney-General.

TARIFFS

Sir,—As an old Free Trader I seem that I shall live to see the one and only way for general prosperity, especially with the great British Empire. Here we hear talk of even a free port. The greatest builders of tariff walls (U.S.A.) appear to see their overseas business going to pot, and although they are storing away the world's gold in their vaults it appears to be only useful to make brass candlesticks with. The tariff walls, are in the most deplorable state.

If we can only keep the price of goods down, more will be used and more employment created. If a dollar's worth of feed will produce a dollar's worth of eggs, I presume fifty cents will produce fifty cents' worth, and the same right down the list.

It is anything but essential all taxes should be cut at least in half. Personally, I would like to see this beautiful island of ours a free state. That is, if ever we want a big population.

WALTER J. DANDRIDGE, 1612 Fell Street, Victoria, B.C., July 21, 1932.

VICTORIA'S TREES

Sir,—It is very unfortunate that some person or persons are anxious to destroy Victoria's beauty by wood-butchery. New Zealand made it a criminal offence to cut down a single tree unless by a difficult permit. Take Pandora Avenue, for instance, and even our school grounds, where trees could now be planted and make these bare spots places of beauty. Surely we have no need to copy Los Angeles or the Prairies. If we had an advertisement for Victoria if our drains are so badly put in that roots can penetrate, and if we have holes and cracks in our sidewalks where sewerage can leak out, examine the drains first and when the trees get too tall put the drains up higher or remove them altogether and put them where they should be.

WALTER J. DANDRIDGE, 1612 Fell Street, Victoria, B.C., July 20, 1932.

AFTER DEATH

Sir,—Evidently my letter has raised the question, "If the dead know not anything until their resurrection, what about the transfiguration, and the statement of Jesus to the twelve on the cross, also of Saul inquiring of Samuel?" So may I remind your readers that the transfiguration was a vision. Jesus himself said, "Matt. xvii, 9. Webster's dictionary says that a vision is something imagined to be seen, though not real; in Scripture, a revelation from God to give information of future events. The vision was given to illustrate the glorious Kingdom of Christ, as He had promised in Matt. xvi, 28. Other Scriptures prove that His statement was "Within twenty-four hours you will be in Paradise." The words should be after, not before, the word "today." Jesus said: "I say unto thee today, thou shalt be with me in Paradise." Christ's Kingdom, which the vision illustrated, was in Paradise regained, so in God's own due time the repentant thief will be resurrected and be with Christ in Paradise. Moses and Elias will be there too. With reference to I Samuel, chapter xviii, Saul did not see Samuel, neither did the medium see Samuel. Her fright was due to the imperious spirit of the evil power which she disguised inquirer was King David himself, Samuel xviii, 12. Saul's communication caused his death, 1 Chron. x, 13, 14.

Many would not be mediums if they knew who the spirits are. Nothing in the Bible shows that they are our loved ones, but it gives sure proof that they are not. One word in my letter was misprinted, changing the meaning slightly. I meant to say, "Spirit communication," not "true" or "partly true and some entirely untrue, but all to deceive the people by the perpetration of Satan's lie, 'Ye shall not perish die.'"

Expansion of Trade In Empire Objective Of British Members

Baldwin Voices Aims of Delegation—Favors Lowering of Tariffs and Preferential Agreements Among Sister Nations—Must Avoid Isolation

OTTAWA, July 21 (CP).—The following is a text of the speech delivered today during the opening proceedings of the Imperial Economic Conference here by Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, head of the United Kingdom delegation.

"As head of the United Kingdom delegation at the conference of 1926, I was associated with a series of resolutions, unanimously agreed, which not only defined the constitutional relationship with one another of the various parts of the Empire, but gave to the world a new form of political partnership based on the positive desire to each to co-operate with the other. Today the conference is concerned with economic relationships, where Empire co-operation is similarly of vital importance, and I am proud once more to lead a delegation that, as in 1926, intends to work with it to that end."

IS GOOD AUGURY

"It is a good augury that there are associated with this conference many of those who took part in the work of 1926.

"We all have great expectations of the successful outcome of this great gathering of the representatives of the peoples of the Empire. There is not one country represented here that is not suffering from depression and disappointment—not one that does not look to Ottawa to give fresh stimulus and fresh hope. I most confidently believe that we shall not be disappointed, and I trust that we shall end the conference with definite arrangements made for our mutual advantage."

"It will be in your minds, as it is in ours, that as a result of the change in our fiscal policy this conference has a degree of freedom which has been denied to earlier conferences. Though the field open to us in the past has been limited, the principle of Imperial preference has been recognized and the preferences were able to give have been of considerable value. Those given in respect of commodities, such as sugar, wine, tobacco, coffee, dried fruits, and the preferences under the McKenna duties have been a real stimulus to Empire trade."

WIDER FIELD IS OPEN

"Now under the new policy which our country has adopted, we have given to the Empire a wide extension of preference under the Import Duties Act, by which free entry has been provisionally granted. It is now open to us to deal over a wider field, and we trust that we may find opportunity of taking full advantage of this new freedom."

"While we have thus given what is, I think, the greatest privilege that can be extended to sister nations, namely free entry, I want once again gratefully to acknowledge, as I have done on previous occasions, the help that our country has received from the preferences voluntarily given by the Dominions, and in doing so I desire to express our warm appreciation of what has been done in that direction. Even now, however, we have by no means exhausted the field of mutual preference. Of the trade carried on by the Empire, 70 per cent is still with foreign countries, only 30 per cent among ourselves."

ENORMOUS POSSIBILITIES

"Were conditions to remain as they are, the possibilities of expansion today are enormous. But looking to future generations, as population increases, the scope can hardly be measured. Development may come quicker than we anticipate. When George III ascended the throne, the population of Great Britain was only 7,000,000. By the end of his reign it had doubled, and 100 years later that doubled population had trebled. In the life of a people 100 years is but a brief span."

"Looking at the situation from another aspect, the trend today is towards larger units. International trade is so hampered by barriers of all kinds that a strong opinion is developing in many groups, not necessarily political in character, but offering to members economic advantages in the mutual opening of markets. No one suggests that complete free trade within the Empire is possible. Considerations of revenue and of past policy stand in the way. But equally there can be no doubt that more constant communications and more complete information about Imperial market requirements would, if properly focused, present governments with opportunities of securing trade with other countries of the Empire, and of making commercial arrangements with other groups of nations such as could hardly be reached if each government acted alone."

WELCOMED TRADE AGREEMENTS

"The present universal depression makes the extension and improvement of Imperial trade a matter of urgent importance to all parts of the Empire. It is the desire of the United Kingdom to see trade between the Colonies and the Dominions and India still further increased. We cordially welcome such arrangements as the agreement between Canada and the West Indies, which has conferred benefits on both."

In Honor of French Saint

MANY cardinals and bishops took part in the festivities at Lisieux, France, in honor of St. Theresa. All nations were represented and the mass of pilgrims was estimated at more than 25,000. The above picture shows part of the huge procession winding its way through the ancient streets of Lisieux.

Mr. Baldwin turned to world conditions, and the dependence of the Commonwealth on world prosperity. He said it was the policy of the United Kingdom to co-operate in any practical international scheme designed to secure recovery of world prices.

CONFERENCE NECESSARY

He continued: "Among the factors which should operate towards a restoration of price levels, the first place must be assigned to the recovery of confidence by traders and producers. This object can best be achieved by assuring traders of a market for their goods, by the removal or limitation of existing barriers to trade, particularly arbitrary and erratic quota systems and exchange restrictions; by finding a solution of the problem of reparations and war debts, and by lessening the heavy burden of taxation and interest charges. At Lausanne, the way was opened to a final settlement of reparations."

MUST NOT BE ISOLATED

"We cannot isolate ourselves from the world. No nation or group of nations, however wealthy and populous, can maintain prosperity in a world where depression and impoverishment reign. Let us therefore aim at lowering rather than the raising of barriers, even if we cannot fully achieve our purpose now, and let us remember that any action we take here is bound to have its reactions elsewhere."

His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom place the highest value on the conference as its general objective, the expansion of Empire trade, brought about as far as possible by the lowering of trade barriers as between the several members of the Empire."

"We believe such an objective to be the one best calculated to insure the permanence and stability of the Empire, and to restore and increase the prosperity of all its peoples."

WILL DISCUSS AGRICULTURE

Dominion Calls Conference With Provinces for August 29 at Toronto

Following individual conferences with the various provinces last year, the Federal Department of Agriculture has called a joint meeting of agriculturists to take place at Toronto on August 29. British Columbia is invited to have Government representation at the conference, in a letter received by Hon. William Atkinson this week from Hon. Robert Weir, Federal Minister of Agriculture.

The main purpose of the Dominion-Provincial meeting will be to discuss co-ordination of Canadian services in agriculture, the existing field of research and its profitable extension, and kindred matters. Mr. Atkinson said yesterday that it had not yet been decided who would represent the Province at the meeting.

ADVISORY PANEL

At the meeting the newly proposed national advisory committee on agriculture will come into being, as an outgrowth of the policy undertaken by Mr. Weir since assuming the Federal portfolio.

The convention will be held at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, and besides provincial delegates, will be open to others engaged in agriculture through university or research services.

British Columbia, in a tripartite conference with the Dominion and the University of British Columbia last year, settled the field in which such agency would engage in this province. The national gathering will perform the same service for the country as a whole, it is anticipated.

"Rastus, I am sorry to hear that you have buried your wife."

"Yassah, bene, ah jus' had to—she was dead."

MAKES PROTEST TO DEPARTMENT

Publicity Bureau Complains Against Commercial Fishing in Saanich Inlet

George I. Warren, acting for the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, has written to Major J. A. Motherwell, chief superintendent of fisheries in British Columbia, calling attention to alleged violations of the fishing regulations in Saanich Inlet.

After setting out that the impression has prevailed locally that the inlet was closed to commercial fishing, and that the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association, recently formed, had success in stimulating the sport end of these waters, the letter concluded with the following: "Yesterday two complaints were made that commercial fishing activity had been started in the inlet, and that a group of men using four or five small fishing boats were digging clams at the few popular sandy beaches on the inlet. We understand that these clams are being packed in boxes and shipped to Seattle, and we are writing you to ascertain if this activity is not illegal. It seems to us that it is commercial fishing, and that the digging of clams, particularly on the bathing beaches, might prove objectionable to the further development of tourist trade in that vicinity."

"Any information which you may forward to us in this connection will be deeply appreciated."

FUNERAL TODAY

POLICY OF AUSTRALIA MONETARY

Not Limited to Development of Intra-Empire Trade, Says Premier

READY WITH PLANS TO PUT INTO EFFECT

OTTAWA, July 21 (CP).—Australia favors a monetary policy as well as the development of intra-Empire trade, Premier Stanley M. Bruce, the Antipodean country made this announcement to the Imperial Conference today.

"Our accomplishment, however, is not limited to what we can achieve in the realms of intra-Empire trade," Mr. Bruce declared. "I believe that in a monetary policy we can take action which will be a contribution towards the restoration of prices, confidence and stability."

INTERNATIONAL BASIS
 "Our success should serve as an inspiration to action on an international basis which is essential if full prosperity is to be recaptured. This conference has a great task."

"If we are to overcome our troubles there must be an increase of commodity prices, a restoration of confidence, and an easing of the burden of debtor countries."

"To achieve these things and to bring about a complete solution of the present difficulties, I recognize that international action is necessary."

"This is not the occasion on which I should discuss this question or set out Australia's proposals to assist Empire trade. That will come later."

CONTRIBUTION READY
 At this stage I confine myself to saying that the Australian delegation, as a result of months of careful preparation, has arrived in Ottawa ready to make its contribution to the discussions which are opening today."

"We are prepared to help Empire trade and particularly British trade in the Australian market, and we are also ready to assist, but limited, requests for assistance to some of our exports."

"By mutual good will and co-operation there will be no doubt that we can do to help each other, and I am confident that beneficial results will flow from our deliberations."

ABANDONMENT RUMOR DENIED
 Canadian National Ships to Maintain Intercoast Service, Says Official

VANCOUVER, July 21 (CP).—Col. J. C. Brown, Pacific Coast manager of the Canadian National Steamship Lines, denied today that the company contemplated discontinuing its intercoastal service between Eastern and Western Canada, as had been rumored here.

"Continuance of our intercoastal steamship service means a great deal to Eastern and Western Canadian business relations," declared Col. Brown.

"When buying goods in Eastern Canada, British Columbia must know definitely what the date of delivery will be. With the regular sailings provided by the Canadian National Steamships between the Pacific Coast and St. Lawrence River ports, that service is supplied and buyers know in advance what the sailing date will be. Our merchants here must have this service if the manufacturing houses in Eastern Canada are to receive their supplies."

"Present business and industrial conditions have made the operation of this service difficult, but with improvement in sight we are confident that the sailings for the balance of the year will be handled with full cargoes," Col. Brown said.

Canadian Swim Squad Arrives At Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—With a mild flare of pomp and ceremony which has attended the arrival of teams from most of the other nations, the Canadian swimming team, the German delegation of nearly 100 athletes and officials, along with the United States track and field squad, were welcomed to the Olympic Camp today.

The Canadian swimmers, seven women and four men, were headed by their coach, Tommy Walker, who lost no time in getting his charges comfortably quartered. The team, he said, will take a good rest after their long journey before being permitted to start their final conditioning trials.

Explorer and Writer Safe; Ship Battered

SEATTLE, July 21 (AP).—An amateur wireless operator picked up a message from an Alaskan station last night directed to the Associated Press, reporting the safety of Frank North, writer and explorer, although his severely battered vessel had been badly damaged in storms north of the Alaskan Peninsula.

It was said that North had left on the Umanak Island in one Alutians, on June 10, and no word had been received from him until his vessel put into port at Umanak, after a great deal of stormy weather.

READY FOR INCREASE IN PREFERENCES

New Zealand's Earnest Desire to Facilitate Commerce Generally

FOREIGN PRODUCTS QUOTA IS FAVORED

OTTAWA, July 21 (CP).—New Zealand is prepared to go further with tariff preferences, Rt. Hon. J. G. Coates, leader of the delegation from that portion of the British Empire, informed the Imperial Economic Conference today.

"We will proceed by reducing where possible the rates on British goods, and in certain cases we will increase the rates on foreign goods. This will increase the margin of preference for British goods."

GENERAL REDUCTION
 "However," said Mr. Coates, "in our earnest desire to facilitate commerce generally, we will reduce also the general or nonpreference rates on many other imports upon which we are prepared to reduce the corresponding British rates."

Mr. Coates said that it was the earnest desire of New Zealand that the United Kingdom would be able to increase the preferences already granted on Empire products, and to consider the feasibility of extending them to products not now included. New Zealand was particularly interested in meat and meat by-products.

New Zealand, said Mr. Coates, supported the proposals which have been made "for the judicious application, with respect to selected categories of foreign imports, of the quota to govern the importation of non-Empire products into Empire markets."

A NECESSARY COURSE
 "In no case do we think the quota, or quantitative restrictions, should apply to products of the Empire, but the end can be achieved by the use of the quota to restrict the volume of foreign imports," said Mr. Coates.

"This," he added, "is an unusual course, but prevailing conditions are so highly abnormal that we are forced to regard it as necessary."

The further discussion of import quotas could be postponed to a later date, Mr. Coates said, but the New Zealand delegation give their full support to the general principle.

"We are in a very difficult position," he said, "and we are determined to do our best to tide us over this abnormal period."

Announcements
 Vanity should not be confused with self-respect. Vanity places an inordinate value upon possessions, real or imaginary; whereas self-respect is an appreciation, not of the dignity of one's being, but of it is also an expression of one's love of beauty and order; therefore, it is justifiable to try and look as presentable as possible! ## U.S. HURDLES TEAM SPEEDY

Big Things Expected From Keller, Saling and Beard at Olympics

LOS ANGELES, July 21 (AP).—The United States not only should regain the Olympic high hurdles championship this year but finish one, two, three, in the final, unless some mishap along the timed one hundred and ten metre route befalls Jack Keller, George Saling and Percy Beard.

The home forces never had a faster trio for this spectacular event. All have broken world records, and Keller, running against the wind, tied the world mark of 44 seconds in capturing the final trial at Palo Alto.

Keller may not be the most stylish of the hurdlers, but coaches agree he is the fastest man in the world. But the foreign menace seems to have been much to choose between Keller and Saling, however, on this season's performances. Beard, 1923 national champion, has "rated" his early pace and is counted on to reach his peak in the Olympics. He won the National high hurdles a year ago in 14 1-2 seconds.

Not only is the American hurdling delegation stronger than in 1928, but the foreign menace seems weaker. For one thing, the South Africans who ran the American boys dizzy at Amsterdam, Weightman-Smith and Atkinson, are mismanaging their team. The principal foreign contention this time seems due from the German, Wegener, and the Finnish champion, Bjosted, each with best marks of 144 for one hundred and ten metres.

STRONG FOR 400 METRES
 From Europe and elsewhere, the visiting hurdlers seem more interested in a better equipped for the four hundred metre race. This is the event Lord David Burghley won from the American favorites, Morgan Taylor and Frank Cumel, four years ago. The titled Briton is returning, as captain of his team, to defend this honor with his customary courage and enjoyment.

Able Booth, Yale's great half-back, of Los Angeles, has passed up the motion pictures for the demonstration football game which will be staged here on the night of August 8 as part of the tenth Olympiad.

The pocket-size ball carrier who flashed across the Eastern gridirons for three years made this decision today. At the same time, Johnny Barker, University of California guard, whose field goal in the last few minutes of play beat Notre Dame last fall, announced that he would pass up the game to take a brief fling in the pictures.

Booth will play on the Eastern team composed of senior stars of Yale, Harvard and Princeton. Barker was to have been a member of the Western team from Stanford, California and Southern California.

FINANCE REPORT IS CONSIDERED
 The semi-annual financial statement of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital was presented to the Saanich Council at its meeting last night. Total value of work for Saanich patients was $20,285. The statement showed, 48.4 per cent of which was work done for indigents. The six months' payment by Saanich was $4,501.30, which covered 45.5 per cent of the work for indigents.

It was pointed out that no account had been made of the 70c per day paid by the Provincial Government for Saanich indigents, which, when included, would mean the hospital suffered only a slight loss from Saanich patients. The statement was received and filed.

The Government of the Netherlands East Indies is fostering road improvements.

To four cups of raspberries add two cups water. Boil and strain. To four cups of this juice, add one package of commercial pectin and bring to a full rolling boil. Add four cups heated sugar and boil until two drops form side by side on a spoon. Pour into hot sterilized jars.

RASPBERRY JAM
To four cups raspberries, add two cups water. Add one package commercial pectin and bring to a full rolling boil. Add six cups sugar and boil until the jam is sufficiently thick. Pour into hot jars.

For canning raspberries by the open kettle method, bring the berries to a boil, and bottle at once. The cold pack method is more satisfactory, because the berries do not break up. Overcooking toughens the berries.

TRYSTING PLACES
Two met within an orchard, dim
With dusk and pearded with dew
As out beyond Earth's western rim
A slim young moon peered through.
Oh, flower-sweet and twilight-sweet
The world about them lay,
From clover blossoms at their feet
To lilac-ending day.
And on a crowded street, two met;
The city's din and roar
Around them beat, like great waves
Of a storm-veined shore.
A thousand noises, harsh and shrill
Assailed them as they stood,
A thousand faces, alien, chill,
A careless multitude.
And yet they found such glamour
Upon that busy street
As touches any orchard fair,
Or any garden sweet.

The extension halves the monthly payments.

Bake in a hot oven, 400 degs. Fahr., for about thirty minutes, or until the popovers can be lifted from the cups and do not shrink when removed from the oven. To add the fruit, cut a slip in the side of the popovers as soon as they are removed from the oven and insert a few spoonfuls of apple sauce, marmalade, preserves, jelly or canned fruit.

Rev. H. S. Payne Is Introduced at Social Evening

A very enjoyable social evening, under the auspices of St. Matthew's Guild at Langford Lake, was held at "Aldermere," Highland District, through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. H. Merry.

The object of the event was to introduce Rev. H. S. Payne to the young people and friends of the parish. Mrs. F. A. Sparks and R. Seabrooke sang solos. Mrs. T. Catrall recited. Miss Alex Williams gave selections on the steel guitar, and Mr. Fred Williams was heard on the harmonica. Mrs. Sparks, Miss A. Seabrooke and Mr. H. Merry acted as accompanists.

Mrs. J. E. Macdonald managed a house-house table. Mrs. W. E. Walker sold ice cream, and refreshments were served by Mesdames H. A. Hinks, W. A. Walker, Merry, Miss L. Savory and others. Several tables of cards proved popular, and Mrs. Merry presented a guest, Mr. Williams, with a plant on the occasion of his seventeenth birthday.

The happy evening ended with cheers for Mr. and Mrs. Merry for their kind hospitality. A collection was taken in aid of the Guild funds.

CHAPTER XIV

"There is no doubt, Mr. Dacres," said Emily, "that Pearson was in a very bad way. I am not going to enter into the ethics of the situation at the moment. Pearson had apparently before now occasionally borrowed money—to use a euphemism—from his firm—I may say without their knowledge. He was fond of speculating in shares, and on one occasion, knowing that certain dividends were to be paid into his account in a week's time, he anticipated them by using the firm's money to buy certain shares which were bound to go up. The transaction was quite satisfactory, the money was replaced and Pearson really doesn't seem to have had any doubt as to the honesty of the transaction. Apparently he repeated this just over a week ago. This time an unforeseen thing occurred. The books of the firm are examined at certain stated times but for some reason or other this date was advanced and Pearson was faced with a very unpleasant dilemma. He was quite aware of the construction that would be put on his action and he was quite unable to raise the sum of money involved. He admits himself that he had tried in various guises, the failed when as a last resource he rushed down to Devonshire to lay the matter before his uncle and persuade him to help him. The Captain Trevelyan absolutely refused to do so.

"Now, my dear Emily, we shall be quite unable to prevent these facts from being brought to light. The police have already unearthed the matter. And you see, don't you, that we have here a very pressing and urgent motive for the crime. The moment Captain Trevelyan was dead Pearson could easily have obtained the necessary sum as an advance from Mr. Kirkwood and saved himself from disaster and possibly criminal prosecution."

"Oh, the idiot," said Emily helplessly.

"Quite so," said Mr. Dacres dryly. "It seems to me that our only chance lies in proving that Jim Pearson was quite unaware of the provisions of his uncle's will."

There was a pause while Emily considered the matter. Then she said quietly:

"I'm afraid that's impossible. All three of them knew—Sybil, Jim and Brian. They often discussed it and laughed and joked about the rich uncle in Devonshire. You don't think him glibly, Mr. Dacres?"

"Curiously enough I do not," replied the lawyer. "In some ways Jim Pearson is a most transparent young man. He hasn't if you will allow me to say so, Emily, a very high standard of commercial honesty but I do not believe for one minute that his hand sandbagged his uncle."

"Well, that's a good thing," said Emily. "I wish the police thought the same."

"The case against him is unfortunately strong. I am not going to disguise from you my outlook is bad. I think the suggestion of Lorimer, K.C., as the defence, for him to come in and call him," he added cheerfully.

"There is one thing I would like to know," said Emily. "You have seen Jim. I want you to tell me honestly if you think he has told the truth in all respects."

She outlined to him the idea that Emderby had suggested to her.

"It's my impression," the lawyer said, "that he is speaking the truth when he describes his interview with his uncle. But there is little doubt that he has got the wind up badly, and if he went round to the window, entered that way and came across his uncle's dead body—he might just possibly be too scared to admit the fact and have concocted this other story."

"That's what I thought," said Emily. "Next time you see him, Mr. Dacres, will you urge him to speak the truth? It may make the tremendous difference."

"I will do so. All the same," he said after a moment or two's pause, "I think you are mistaken in this idea. The news of Captain Trevelyan's death was bandied around in Exhampton about eight thirty. At that time the last train had left for Exeter but Jim Pearson got the first train available in the morning—a thoroughly unwise proceeding, by the way, as it called attention to his movements, which would not have been noticed if he had left by a train at a more conventional hour. Now, if, as you suggest, he discovered his uncle's dead body some time after half past four, he would have left Exhampton straight away. There's a train which leaves shortly after six and another at a quarter to eight."

"That's a point," admitted Emily. "I didn't think of that."

"I have questioned him narrowly about his method of entering his uncle's house," went on Mr. Dacres. "He says that Captain Trevelyan made him remove his boots, and leave them on the doorstep. That accounts for no wet marks being discovered in the hall."

"He doesn't speak of having heard any sound—anything at all—that gives him the idea that there might have been someone else in the house?"

"Thank you," said Emily. "If I write a note can you take it to him?"

"Subject to its being read, of course."

"Oh, it will be a very discreet one."

She crossed to the writing table and scribbled a few words.

"Dearest Jim—Everything's going to be all right, so cheer up. I am working like the worst kind of nigger to find out the truth. What an idiot you've been, darling."

Love from Emily.

"There," she said. "I have no time to lose. I am going to see Jim's Aunt Jennifer."

At the Laurels, Emily was informed that Mrs. Gardner was out but would be home shortly.

A few minutes later Nurse Davis, a cheerful, friendly, and a curious, arrived.

"How do you do," said Emily. "I am Emily Trefus—kind of niece of Mrs. Gardner's. That is I am going to be a niece but my fiancé, Jim Pearson, has been arrested as I expect you know."

"Oh, it's been too dreadful," said Nurse Davis. "We got all the papers this morning. What a terrible business. You seem to be bearing up wonderfully. Miss Trefus—really wonderfully."

"Well, one mustn't sag at the knees," said Emily. "I hope you don't mind very much. I mean, it must be awkward for you to be associated with a family that has a murder in it."

"It's very unpleasant, of course," said Nurse Davis. "But one's duty to one's patient comes before everything."

"How splendid," said Emily. "I must be wonderful for Aunt Jennifer to feel she has somebody upon whom she can rely. I don't know Aunt Jennifer's husband at all. I've never met him. He never goes away from home, does he? What exactly is the matter with him?"

Nurse Davis embarked on the subject of the professional gait.

"So, really he might get well again any minute," Emily murmured thoughtfully.

HUMAN INTEREST IN EMPIRE FILM

"Symphony of Six Million." Opening Today, Stars Ricardo Cortez and Irene Dunne

Touching the heart strings with its deep pathos and its rendering of a sublime romance, an exceptionally fine picture opens at the Empire Theatre today. The film is RKO-Radio Pictures' "Symphony of Six Million," co-starring Ricardo Cortez and Irene Dunne in a story of deep human feeling by Fannie Hurst.

Like most of Miss Hurst's tales, it is a sympathetic saga focused on the lives of two young people who are integral parts of a dominant background of traditions and economic strictures.

Vaguely reminiscent of "Humoresque"—one of the screen's indisputed classics from the pen of this eminent authoress—the film paints in bold, dramatic colors as it tells the poignant story of a ghetto doctor's love for a teacher of the slums. Its theme is based on the eternal idealism of man and the eternal quest for romance of woman. The film brings a changed Cortez to audiences that have seen him during the past few years in villainous roles. The doctor is a sympathetic character and Cortez plays the role with a vast amount of sympathy.

COLUMBIA "Steady Company," THEATRE Universal's romantic film of flying flats and fluttering hearts, is now showing at the Columbia Theatre, with Norman Foster and June Clyde appearing in the featured leads.

Hollywood has just seen it at the preview and gives it a remarkable rating. Henry Armetta, popular Italian comedian of a score of hits, plays one of the most important parts and ever-welcome Zasu Pitts is prominent among the cast, which also includes J. Farrell MacDonald, Walter Miller and Jack Perry.

ROMANO "The Perfect Alibi," THEATRE reveals a mystery plot said to be most novel in its design. The audience knows the identity of the culprit in this mystery film; the people of the story do not. Some have their suspicions, and it is their efforts to bring about the arrest of the guilty ones that makes this A. A. Milne mystery success so electrifying with suspense.

PLAYHOUSE Matt Moore learned to pilot an airplane during the filming of "Cock of the Air," the United Artists picture at the Playhouse Theatre, in which he appears with Billie Dove and Chester Morris. Matt's first solo flight, in which he made some "tricky" landings, was performed before the cameras, and some of these shots fitted so perfectly with the air sequences in "Cock of the Air," they are now in the finished production.

DOMINION Tallulah Bankhead, THEATRE actress, and Tallulah Bankhead, wife, can never exist at the same time, the Paramount star of "Thunder Below," now showing at the Dominion Theatre, stated recently. As long as she is an actress she will remain unmarried; if she were, she would abandon her career. "No professional woman can make a lasting and real success of both marriage and a career," she believes. "It is unfair to a husband to share him with work." The foregoing reflects the pronounced opinion on the subject of marriage of the brilliant and magnetic Miss Bankhead, star of "Tarnished Lady" of a year ago.

CAPITOL It is mighty difficult THEATRE to forget military training. Luis Trenker, distinguished Austrian actor-sportsman, who saw extensive service during the World War as commander of the Austrian Kaiser-Jäger by a special commission from the Emperor Franz Josef, had his war days recalled forcibly during the recent filming of "The Doomed Battalion," Universal's drama of Alpine warfare, which is now showing at the Capitol Theatre. Tala Birel and Victor Varconi are featured with Trenker in "The Doomed Battalion" which was filmed on snow-capped mountain tops above the clouds.

BRITISH PARTY ENJOYS VISIT

Will Return Today to Mainland, After Three-Day Sojourn Here

Taken to the beautiful gardens of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart, and the Malahat scenic loop in the morning, members of the British National Union party visiting the city, continued their sightseeing yesterday. The afternoon was spent in individual drives to dairy and small fruit ranches in Saanich and other environs of the city.

This morning, members of the party will be permitted a free period, in which they will follow their own fancy, before leaving on the afternoon boat for the mainland for return east by way of Chilliwack and Banff. At Chilliwack, the party is to be entertained by the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association. Delighted comment was expressed by individual members of the party at the beauty of Victoria and its surrounding districts. Butchart's Gardens provided one of the keenest thrills on their entire trip. The view from the Summit at the Malahat, up Saanich Arm, was warmly praised.

On the practical side the visitors took a ready interest in farm operations disclosed on their tour, and were impressed with the work being carried on at Bajan Bay, by the Dominion Experimental Farm. Many voiced the regret that the shortness of the stay would preclude their seeing more of Vancouver Island.

Big Increase in Canadian Exports

OTTAWA, July 21 (CP).—Canadian domestic exports to Australia have made a remarkable increase in the past three months, the aggregate being $1,622,205, as compared with $897,816 in the same period of 1931, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported tonight. Imports totaled $745,463.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

A Rescue and a Lift

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

The deed that thoughtful is and kind
The bonds of friendship tighter bind.
—Old Mr. Toad.

Buried in the sand at the bottom of the posthole dug by Farmer Brown's Boy, peace came to Old Mr. Toad. True, he was at the bottom of what to him was a frightfully deep hole, but that was far, far better than going down the long gullet of Mr. Blacksnake. From that there would be no escape, while from this difficulty he was sure he could find a way out. It would take him a long time to get out, and he was impatient to get to the Smiling Pool to join the happy chorus and to let Mrs. Toad know that he was there waiting for her, but better to keep her waiting a little while than forever. The sand was damp, which was to Old Mr. Toad's liking, so when he had recovered from his fright he really was very comfortable.

Along about dusk he dug his way out of the bottom of the posthole and looked up. It was a long distance up to the edge of that hole. He sighed. He sighed again. Then he set to work digging. Instead of digging down, he dug into the wall of the hole slanting upward and off to one side. It was slow work, and he took his time about it. There was no use in getting tired out at the start.

It was along toward noon of the following day that Farmer Brown's Boy came to set a new post in that hole. Before dropping it in he looked in to make sure that there was nothing in that hole. You see, he is a careful and a thoughtful boy, and the thought came to him that someone might have fallen in there. No one was to be seen. He was just about to turn away to pick up the post to set it in the hole when he noticed a little hole in the smooth wall close to the bottom, and a little higher and off to one side another hole.

"Now, who could have made those

Piles Go Quick

No Salves—No Cutting

Thousands who have itching, bleeding or protruding piles have not yet learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To get rid of Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, drive out the thick impure blood, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, after years of study, found a real internal Pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1,000 patients, with success in over 900 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer, no matter how stubborn their case, might try his prescription with a money-back guarantee.

HEM-ROID tablets have such a wonderful record of success in this city that MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores, and all good druggists, invite you to try HEM-ROID, and guarantee money refunded if it does not end your Pile misery. (Adv.)

Just Roamin' Around

BY TWO ROVERS

"My word!" said Rover, to me as I sat with my cold-ridden head between my hands, "but you did give me a scare!"

"That silly cold of yours, Master. I thought you were in for a long and wheezy time; but, thank goodness, it's left you before it left nothing of you left, if you get me." Such is the vernacular of this latter day! But, to tell the truth, the pesky, chill-microbe has not taken his departure, yet, although I must say I'm feeling spry and up to snuff, again.

Years ago, when we were sojourning in a neck in the woods we had a similar experience. Here it is:

GOOD NEWS

Chasing news items is hard enough in a small ultra-rural community, at the best of times, believe me; but, when the day's duties include a ramble with Rover over wet fields and through marshy boggy woodlands, the icy damp invades your inmost lung recesses, and you cough as if ready for your coffin; sneeze as your weakened knees give an accompanying quiver; and your doctor says "hospital for a day or so," and prescribes some filthy-tasting decoction; then, you really know the abyssal depths of the "valley of despair" to the full.

You lie awake in a white (or is it blue or green) tinted room, somewhere in Ward 2, and nurses come and nurses go, bless 'em! but nary a news item floats your weary way.

With aching, influenzaed brow; with cough—wrecking, heaving (manly) chest; with worn-out nose and bleary eyes, you still taste that last dose of unpleasantness, as you lie and think and think and lie.

What a story I could make of "more cheerful wall tinting for bed-ridden newspaper men." Surely I won't be here over next Saturday and miss hearing Miss Dimples McGregor sing "Comin' Through the Rye," and the chance to give her a really good write-up; and there's sure to be a fight or two that I won't be able to send in to my paper. Gosh! It's tough luck! To spend the days like this! Ugh! Eucalyptus-drenched, cough-mixed to a fare-thee-well, in bed, on Ward 2; but, the nurses come, the nurses go, bless 'em! It might be worse!

AND THEN—

"Who did you say had died? Gee whizz! What a story! Can't I sit up and write my 'copy' and send it in?" The whole world may love a

GIVES TALK ON ROTARY MEETING

J. H. Beatty, M.P.P., Member of International Board of Directors, Addresses Club

In spite of the many problems confronting the organization, due mainly to the conditions in all parts of the world, Rotary International hopes to close the present Rotary year with its aims and objects unimpaired and with an optimistic outlook for the future, James H. Beatty, M.P.P. for Victoria, and a member of the board of directors of Rotary International, told his fellow Rotarians at a luncheon meeting at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

PRINCESS BEATRICE UNDERGOES OPERATION

LONDON, July 21.—Princess Beatrice, aunt of the King and mother of the Duke of Albany, underwent an operation yesterday for removal of a cataract from her right eye.

Her condition was reported satisfactory.

FIFTEEN KILLED WHEN TRAIN STRIKES CAR

MEXICO CITY, July 21 (AP).—Fifteen persons were killed and twenty injured yesterday when a train from Laredo struck a crowded street car in the suburb of Tacuba. The street car service had been suspended for more than a month because of a strike and was resumed only last night.

ARREST AIRMAN TO CLEAR UP DETAILS

MEXICO CITY, July 21 (AP).—Clarence McElroy, flyer lost in the jungles of Oaxaca State for almost three weeks after his plane crashed June 27, killing Roy Gordon, was arrested yesterday in the town of San Geronimo, where he is recuperating from numerous injuries.

Dr. A. R. Goodman, physician who flew there to treat him, returned this afternoon with the explanation that the arrest was merely technical. No suspicion was held against the airman, it was said, but the authorities wished to clear up details of the case.

WORKING FOR CLUBS

Mr. Beatty referred to the excellent service being given to clubs in North America by the board of directors and the unceasing efforts of the permanent officers in the interests of Rotary, especially as the board of directors had found it necessary to budget for a reduction in membership of approximately 10,000 in Canada, United States and Newfoundland.

REPORTS ON MEETING

Mr. Beatty was giving a report on the work of the board of directors and the measures under consideration at the recent meeting of the board in Chicago. He said that the board was not making any plans for a definite programme along any one line this year, but would give careful attention to all matters affecting Rotary and award decisions where possible. The enormity of the work of the board and the permanent staff located at Chicago was detailed by Mr. Beatty. He made mention of the cost of maintaining quarters in Chicago, the lease of the two floors of The Evening Post Building amounting to $25,000 a year for 16,000 feet of floor space. Mr. Beatty intimated that suggestions had been received to change the location of the headquarters staff, but no action had been taken.

Italy's programme for the expenditure of $39,450,000 to promote public works is to be financed from the oversubscription to the national loan recently floated there.

ADVERTISERS KNOW THEIR BEST MEDIUM

NEW YORK, July 21.—Major industries continue to show a preference for newspaper advertising over that of other mediums, the American Newspaper Publishers' Association reported today.

The association's bureau of advertising announced the results of a survey showed 435 national advertisers spent $143,365,000 in newspaper advertising last year. Magazine space was used by 190 of these firms to the extent of $78,317,815, and 121 used radio broadcasts entailing an expenditure of $21,223,862. The bureau reported that newspapers were the favored medium in twenty-five of the industrial groups represented.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

Circe Casts Spell
Over Jolly Crew
In Deep-Sea Race

Beautiful New Yacht Enters Harbor for Outfitting
—Throngs on Causeway Cast Envious Eye on Happy Mariners Splicing Ropes

The good yacht Circe, in happier mood than the sorceress of Greek mythology, has cast her spell over a jolly crew that arrived here yesterday from Seattle to complete outfitting before sailing South to enter the Pacific Coast championship regatta at Santa Barbara.

Unlike the seditious daughter of Helios, Circe, the yacht, will hold her crew under happy enchantment until they finish a most romantic cruise, which will be climaxed with a thrilling race from San Francisco to Honolulu.

Only the drug of a good following wind and running sea and the hum of the breeze through the rigging will keep this crew under the spell of Circe's charm, but it is a spell that will last.

MUCH ADMIRER

Circe had every passer-by on the Causeway stopping a few minutes to admire her grace yesterday as she lay alongside the Puget Sound Navigation Company's wharf. Her trim bow and tapering stern; the towering mast and spick-and-span appearance was the cause of considerable comment.

Her trip from Seattle to Victoria was the first since being launched from the Lake Union Drydock Company's yards in Seattle.

YOUTFUL DESIGNER

She is owned by Ray Cooke, of Seattle, and was designed by his eighteen-year-old stepson, Benjamin Seaborn. Mr. Cooke is proud of this fact, and justifiably so, for she is a work of art, a yacht that would thrill the most land-locked landlubber in existence.

In length she is 58½ feet; beam, 14 feet, and draught 9½ feet. The hollow mast reaches 86 feet into the air, while the yacht carries 2,100 feet of working canvas and 4,000 feet with her light canvas in a following wind.

Her appearance is somewhat deceptive, for an outside view would convince anyone that she had little room below; but a tour of the quarters between decks was a revelation.

There is sleeping accommodation for ten persons. This includes a stateroom forward. The rest of the accommodation is in the lounge, room and dining-room, where the berths are artistically concealed. Book racks enhance the coziness of the lounge, while the galley would send any housewife into ecstasies.

The gas range, china shelves and food compartments are compact and handy to reach, while all cabins are well lighted, both in the daytime and at night.

Asstern, in a sort of locker room, where one would least expect to find it, is a powerful auxiliary engine. The motor is a Buick, horsepower, capable of giving the craft a speed of nine knots and a cruising radius, without the use of sail, of 1,200 miles.

Even a bathroom has been provided on this luxurious yacht, while hardwood floors make one wonder what next they will put into boats.

When finally completed (there are yet a few odd jobs to be done), the yacht will cost approximately $20,000.

Mr. Cooke, in proudly alluding to the designer, said the youth had come from a family of English shipbuilders for generations back.

GIVEN WELCOME
Members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club called upon the visitors yesterday and tendered congratulations on the fine workmanship, and wished Mr. Cooke every success in the regatta at Santa Barbara.

After competing in the Pacific Coast championships, Mr. Cooke will sail to San Francisco to enter the greatest of all yacht classics on this coast, the Golden Gate to Honolulu deep-sea race. Mr. Cooke is well known here, having been a frequent visitor in his former yacht, the Clarel, which always was entered in the international regattas held here. He will sail from Victoria tomorrow for Santa Barbara, accompanied by his wife, stepson and friends.

The vessel left for the West Coast of Vancouver Island at midnight, and will visit many points en route to Port Alice. Sixty-four passengers arrived yesterday from Vancouver and Seattle to board the Princess Norah before she sailed, while a large number of Victorians also booked passage on the ship.

The Victoria passengers are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sheret, of St. Charles Street, with Miss Margaret Sheret and Miss Kathleen Sheret; Miss Marie Watts; Miss H. Johnson; Miss Clotie; Miss Tawney; Miss E. H. Brand; William Bell (purchasing agent for the Canadian Pacific here); Miss E. M. Ball; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred J. Moore; and Miss Beverly Moore, Mr. and Mrs. E. Pollock, G. N. Worley, Mrs. W. Sheret and two children, C. O. Worley, Miss Grive, Mrs. J. W. Rogers with Miss L. T. Rogers and Miss O. M. Rogers, Miss W. Linton, Miss Kathleen Tadmor, A. H. Spier, Mr. and Mrs. W. Price, going to Port Alice to spend a holiday with their daughter; Mrs. Lee, en route to Ahousat; Miss M. Burch and Mr. and Mrs. R. Davidson, en route to Banfield; J. J. Dore, going to Sechart; Mr. and Mrs. A. Lind, who will disembark at Quatsino, and Mrs. Wingen, going to Tofo.

Miss England III Sets Mile Record

MISS England III, the $200,000 speed boat with which Kaye Don regained the world's speed record on water, for Great Britain, on Loch Lomond, Scotland. After two attempts to break the record at Lake Garda in May, Kaye Don took the boat back to England to have her hull redesigned and new motors installed. Her average speed was 119.81 miles an hour, more than eight miles an hour faster than the old record.

VESPER NOW
TOLLED BY
SHIP'S BELL

Memory of Ss. Princess
Royal Fresh With Ocean
Falls Inhabitants

HOOR GONG SOUNDS
CALL TO PRAYERS

The brass notes of the hour-bell that tolled the time aboard the old Victoria-built steamer Princess Royal up and down the Pacific Coast for twenty-six years are not stilled though the stout-hearted old vessel herself has disappeared.

Though the veteran of the Canadian Pacific Railway's B.C. Coast steamship fleet went officially into the limbo of departed ships early in the Spring when she was scrapped and sold by order of Capt. C. D. Merouskos, manager, the voice of her foreteller bell remains on the air at Ocean Falls to remind listeners that the spirit of this grand old vessel still lives.

For the bell, proud and gleaming, has been installed in the belfry of the Ocean Falls United Church Mission which ministers to the spiritual affairs of Japanese children of that pulp and paper community.

For a year or more the missionaries had been making inquiries in many directions to supply the little church with a bell whose voice would call the children to worship. Their prayers were answered when Arthur R. Graves, purser of the Canadian Pacific's Princess Adelaide which plies the Vancouver-Ocean Falls-Prince Rupert run, applied for and secured the Princess Royal's hour-bell when the old coastal liner was being broken up for auction.

Now, every evening, the voice of a departed spirit of the British Columbia-Alaska deeps, will sound on the air not to call bury, wool-sacketed seamen to their posts, but to summon little children to their prayers.

Sea-Cadetting Has Many Attractions At Rodd Hill Camp

Seagoing on Terra Firma Has Advantages Which Are Appreciated by Sixty Lads Under Canvas at Esquimalt

SIXTY Victoria boys went to sea last week for a fortnight's cruise on the rolling ocean waves. That is to say, figuratively speaking, they did. Literally, they are still very much on terra firma, and on Wednesday afternoon scores of their parents and brothers and sisters, aunts, uncles and cousins raided the ship and gave the young sailors a chance to show something of their seamanship.

The way of it is this: The Rain-bow Sea Cadets, five dozen of them, are under canvas at Rodd Hill for their annual summer camp. One of the well-worn conventions of such camps is that the canvas shall be laid off as if it were the upper deck of a ship. This has been done, and while the cadets pad up and down a length of greenward, where the grass becomes sparser and sparser as the days go by, to all intents and purposes it is the 300-foot length of H.M.C.S. Rainbow, training ship of the Victoria branch of the Navy League of Canada.

BOWS AND STERN
There she lies, anchored off a pretty cove with a hedge of wild roses right against her hull. Because she is not really a ship but just a length of greenward, the name, instead of being painted on the stern, is printed in clam shells in the grass. The colors fly fore and aft, however, the blue ensign at the peak, with the Navy League flag at the masthead, and on the foremast the Union Jack.

Just as if she were a real ship, the after-part has its quarter-deck, holy ground where no one is allowed to walk. The parade lies immediately forward of this, and before they had been in training twenty-four hours, every boy on the Rainbow knew that if he crossed this part of the deck at all he must do it "at the double," which, the land lubber must know, means "on the run." Some of the small brothers (and this must be whispered!) some of the fathers, even, nearly fell into disgrace by disobeying the conventions in this respect when they visited the camp on Wednesday. They will never offend again!

SHIP'S BELL

The ship's bell, attached to the afterpart of the mainmast, is a beautiful gleaming bit of brass of which the whole ship's company is very proud. Just behind it is the

Survey Ship Is Seen South of Columbia River

THE new hydrographic survey ship William J. Stewart reported her position last night at 6:15 o'clock as 130 miles south of Columbia River. It was announced by H. D. Pariseau, head of the Dominion Hydrographic Survey department.

This makes her position approximately 350 miles from Victoria, so that it will be late Saturday afternoon before she will arrive here to be docked at Esquimalt.

Strong headwinds and fog encountered shortly after leaving the Panama Canal have delayed her arrival.

ord time between the Esquimalt pier and the Rodd Hill jetty. In addition to all the foregoing there is daily swimming instruction and parades.

FOR THIRTY BOYS

What a revelation of the camp's food requirements a peep into the galley storeroom and the canteen gives! Literally scores of loaves of bread which, the visitor is assured, will be demolished before sundown; and dozens and dozens of eggs.

Four gallons of milk are consumed daily. These are all official camp requirements. The canteen does a brisk business in soda pop, Whistle, Cal-Ade and what-not. Cadet William Duncan, who is in charge, has learned a great deal about the respective popularity of these.

Tomorrow is to be sports day. Beginning at 2:30 o'clock, the programme will take nearly two hours to run off. The Cadets have been preparing for the event ever since going into camp, and some excellent fun should be experienced. Good prizes will be presented.

Boats will leave the public pier at Esquimalt (end of the No. 4 car line) at 1 o'clock and 2 o'clock for the convenience of visitors, who will be brought back at the end of the afternoon. Rodd Hill is accessible also by road, via Parsons Bridge and Belmont Road. Anyone interested in Sea Cadetting should not fail to visit the camp.

Admiral Ship Is Delayed

Headwinds delayed the Admiral liner Ruth Alexander on her run up from California ports, with the result that she did not dock here until 1:30 o'clock this morning.

Passengers were informed that there was no need to disembark until the morning and the vessel was held here until 7 o'clock.

There were fifty-five passengers on board for Victoria. Freight for this port amounted to 125 tons, made up chiefly of dried and fresh fruits and citrus.

JEFFERSON IS DUE WEDNESDAY

W. M. Allen, local representative of the Admiral Line, announced yesterday that the President Jefferson would not arrive from the Far East until Wednesday. The vessel was scheduled to dock here Tuesday, but was delayed in getting away from Yokohama.

The Dorothy Alexander will arrive here Sunday morning from Alaska ports, docking at 7 o'clock to transfer passengers bound for California to the Ruth Alexander, which will dock at the same time from Seattle and depart at 9 a.m.

THREE PARTIES BROUGHT HERE

Approximately 1,500 Excursionists Visit City From Mainland

Three excursion parties arrived here yesterday, one from Seattle and Port Townsend, another from Vancouver, and a third from White Rock, Surrey district. In all, there were approximately 1,500 excursionists.

The Union Steamship Company's ship, Lady Alexandra, arrived here at 12:45 o'clock noon with 800 passengers from White Rock. Yesterday being a civic holiday in the Surrey district, many made up parties for the excursion to Victoria.

Remaining here until 5 o'clock, the passengers were given a four-hour stopover in Victoria, so that ample time was afforded for both sightseeing trips and shopping tours.

DUAL EXCURSION

Inaugurating a new excursion schedule, the Puget Sound Navigation Company's steamer, Indianapolis, docked here from Seattle and Port Townsend at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with more than 300 persons on board. A four-hour visit was allowed the excursionists, who returned at 6 o'clock.

Another party was brought from Vancouver aboard the St. Princess Patricia. The excursionists were brought into Tod Inlet, where they debarked and spent two hours rambling through the famous Butchart Gardens.

The St. Princess Patricia will leave at 9 o'clock this morning on a cruise of the Gulf Islands. Many persons are making this scenic trip.

Japan's Diet will hold a special session to consider agricultural relief measures.

Queen Held For Liner; Enjoy Visit

Tourists aboard the steamer Queen, which docked here from Seattle last night at 8 o'clock, en route to Alaskan ports, were given a pleasant surprise.

Due to the delay caused the Ruth Alexander on her run up from California, passengers were afforded several hours in which to visit the city. There was a large number of passengers aboard the Ruth Alexander for transfer to the Queen. These tourists made a quick change to the Queen when the Ruth docked at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

STEELE STOPS RALPH CHONG

Clever Tacoma Welter Scores Technical K.O. Over Chinese Fighter

SEATTLE, July 21.—Freddie Steele, straight punching Tacoma welterweight, twice battered Ralph Chong, New Orleans Chinese, to the canvas in a six-round boxing battle here tonight to score a technical knockout in the final stanza. Steele scored 148 and Chong 150.

Like a snare-drummer beating double time, the clever Tacoma boy pounded a victory tune on Chong's mid-section. From the outset Steele rained rights and lefts into the Oriental's stomach to win every round by a good margin. Jimmy Britt, Tacoma welterweight, won the decision over Vivencio Alcantara, Manila, in six rounds, taking everything the Filipino had to offer, and dealing out a little more.

Coughing Bullets—After carrying in his head, for fifty-eight years a bullet which he was wounded in the eye at the battle of Vicksburg, July 1, 1863, W. V. Meadows coughed up the projectile on March 21, 1921. At the time Meadows was at his home in West Point, Georgia, and suffered no ill-effects whatever from the astounding experience.

Mr. Meadows, who was a member of G Company, 37th Alabama Infantry, was blinded in his right eye, necessitating its removal, but the bullet was not removed at that time.

The facts of this unique case are authenticated by the many residents of West Point who knew Mr. Meadows.

Tallied Women—Tallied women are peculiar to the remote parts of Northern Nigeria which are tributary to Great Britain. The women of the Kaboro, Kaji, Attaka, Moroa, Katab and Jaba tribes inhabit that part of Africa all assume a mushroom-shaped tall as the outward and visible sign of married dignity. The tall is made of palm fibre, very tightly drawn together and bound with string. Sometimes an iron bell is attached to the tall, to lend it vocal emphasis. The men of the "tallied women" are ferocious headhunters.

Many Youngsters To Seek Canadian Golf Championship

Several Teen-Aged Boys Will Be Seen in Action in Dominion Tourney at Toronto Next Month—Near Expected to Be Contender

TORONTO, July 21 (CP).—Rising band of young golfers who have shown an utter disrespect for pay and experience in the Western Ontario Public Golf Association championships this season promise strong defence of Dominion titles from the invasion of foreign stars in years to come. The current season has been noteworthy for the number of budding big leaguers who have fought to the top flight of the Dominion.

Potential first-rankers, from fourteen years up, have been bubbling to the top of the tourney pot. The most recent diurnal state the spotlight in the Western Ontario Public Golf Association championships a week ago when Ray Neale, fourteen-year-old Windsorite, and L. B. Bissell, Londoner, of the same age, marched home in front of a field of ninety-nine laurel-seekers. Young Neale took the title with a 75-77, the latter round card compiled in a driving rain and thunder storm. Bissell was on his heels with 79-76.

REITH SHOWS PROMISE On the ladder of years Bobby Reith, seventeen-year-old Manitoba open champion, stands next. Knocking at the door leading to the Manitoba championships the past three years, Bobby has reached the semi-finals each time, and this year annexed the open title.

In the first round of the 1932 amateur title-hunt, Wednesday, he shot an 84 under weather conditions that knocked far more experienced players into the 90 class. Reith was back of Danny Stack, twenty-one-year-old, who led with 77, and Bud Donovan, nineteen, and Ernie Palmer, twenty, each with 79.

Ottawa golf's domain is now ruled by a high school student, Frankie Corrigan, slim eighteen-year-old, who scored 76-77 Wednesday to take the Ontario and district title over a field of eighty-four.

And the reign of youngsters stretches down into Nova Scotia.

BIRKS CUP SOCCER FINAL POSTPONED
VANCOUVER, July 21 (CP).—Bounding the knell of the soccer sport for a few weeks anyway, George Morton, president of the Pacific Coast Football League, announced this morning that the Birks cup final between Regents and New Westminster Royals, originally slated for Saturday, would not be played until the beginning of next season. The league was requested not to play the game this week as a counter attraction to the Olympic lacrosse feature in New Westminster, and officials figured that it would be dragging it out too long to put the season on next week.

The annual meeting of the league will take place on Saturday, July 30.

JOE WRIGHT DEFEATED IN HEILEY MEET

Canadian Sculling Champion Loses Close Race to American

DON JUNIORS WIN 150-POUND FOURS

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., July 21 (CP).—Of four Canadian rowing championships decided on the opening day of the 1932 Henley Regatta, only one was captured by a Canadian club. This distinction fell to a junior tackerweight four of the Don Rowing Club, Toronto, who won the junior 150-pound four-oared event. In the other events decided, United States clubs won the honors.

After being definitely beaten and finishing last in their own class, the youthful title-winning Don quartet went into the heavier class to prevent a Toronto Aronaut four from winning by default. Dons showed remarkable form, and romped home first like seasoned rowers.

Buffalo Westsides successfully defended the junior fours crown they won last year, and also annexed the trophy for 150-pound junior fours. Another final to go to a United States club was taken by Princeton University, whose representatives in the senior quarter-mile dash, W. Rutherford, Jr., provided a surprise by defeating Joe Wright, Jr., several times winner of the event. The time of 1 minute 14 seconds was believed a new world record.

The Toronto giant started as usual, and had a full length margin in the field for the first few strokes. Rutherford, rowing in the course adjacent to Wright, pulled in long strokes and cut down Wright's lead by an inch. He swept by Joe just before the line.

Wright had no excuses after the race. He gave full credit to the winner and said the Princeton star was a masterful oarsman.

C. E. Snead, of Vancouver, and J. Flavell, Argonauts, qualified in the first heat of the 140-pound junior singles. In the second heat, J. Ryan, of Argonauts, and E. Rhymer, of St. Catharines, eliminated W. Dalton, of Hamilton.

It was learned yesterday. The subscription list is still open at the business offices of The Daily Colonist and The Times and any donation, no matter how small, will be welcomed.

QUICK FALLS

After a slow first round and a fast second one, Arthur used flying tactics, shoulder butts, an airplane spin followed by a body press to gain the first fall over Ryan in the third after 46 sec. Arthur started out to end the bout in the next round but Ryan reversed matters and evened the count by rallying to pin Arthur in 35 sec. In the fifth the referee decided to separate Ryan in a corner but was greeted with a hard blow to the stomach. He retaliated and was pounding Ryan when Arthur stepped in and used an airplane spin and body press to end the mix. Chief Heatley was in the ring when the end came.

JAP IS CLEVER Flying variations followed by a powerful arm stretch gave Meyers the first fall over Higami in the second after 9 mins. Higami was taking plenty of punishment early in the third when he slipped on a jiu jitsu hold on Meyers' neck to even matters. Meyers was barely able to answer the bell in the fourth but he managed to rally and was pounding Higami hard for another nine minutes, when the clever Japanese got into position and applied the same nerve hold around Meyers' neck and the bout was over.

China has decided to participate in the Chicago Exposition next year.

MOST OF CANADIAN STARS DEPART FOR LOS ANGELES CITY

Half of Canada's Representatives Leave With International Trainload for Tenth Olympiad—British, South Africans, Belgians and Hungarians Included in Party

TORONTO, July 21 (CP).—An international trainload of Olympiad-bound athletes, officials, coaches, trainers and newspapermen set out tonight for Los Angeles, scene of the tenth Olympic Summer Sports, July 30 to August 14.

A cheering crowd at Union Station here shouted and waved good wishes to the departing teams from Great Britain, South Africa, Belgium, Hungary, and a body of Canadians whose ranks were augmented less than two hours later at Hamilton, when track and field and rowing teams joined the party.

The five-nation contingent is to arrive at Los Angeles five days before the opening of the games, bringing the total of countries on the ground to more than a score, and adding several of the world's most famous track performers to an already star-studded gathering. More than half Canada's team, which numbers close to 120, including officials, was aboard the Olympic special shortly after it pulled away from Toronto. Boxers, wrestlers, fencers and cyclists started the transcontinental journey from here, and Bobby Kerr's track men and women got aboard at Hamilton, where they have been in training.

Harry Hart, South African weight star and winner in the shot putt and discus at the British Empire Games at Hamilton in 1930, is in the party. Hart is credited with a throw of over 53 feet in practice with the shot.

Canada's team is without its most brilliant member, Percy Williams, who is waiting at Los Angeles for his teammates. The double-sprint winner of the Amsterdam games last week, and the Los Angeles Hamilton year-old flyer who won both 100 and 200-metre events at the broule, Bert Pearson, of Hamilton, is leader of the Dominion dash division until the team joins Williams in California. BRADMAN GUEST OF BABE RUTH AT BALL GAME
Famous Batman Understands Everything With Exception of Seventh-Inning Shouting

NEW YORK, July 21.—Don Bradman, champion cricket batsman of Australia, attended a ball game at Yankee Stadium as the guest of the injured Babe Ruth, and understood everything about the game except one thing.

He applauded a double play engineered by the Yankees before the Babe could get a chance to explain, did the same for Frank Crosetti's home run in the park and admitted there was more snap and dash to baseball than to the cricket. But he couldn't stand why everyone stood up and stretched in the seventh inning.

"What's all this about?" he asked the Babe.

"Just an old custom that takes the place of tea," the Babe said, offering Bradman a bottle of pop and a "hot dog."

Timely Hit in Last Canto Brings In Winning Run in Close Game and Widens Pittsburgh's Lead — Red Sox Nose Out Yanks While Athletics Fall Before Browns

NATIONAL LEAGUE
PITTSBURGH, July 21.—Captain "Pie" Traynor and Lloyd Waner, two of the Pirates' "crispies," returned to the Pittsburgh line-up today and celebrated the event by getting together in the ninth inning to score the run that beat the Phils, 3 to 2. The victory was Pittsburgh's second in the five-game series, and enabled the Bucks to increase their National League lead to 2 1/2 games, as all their other rivals were idle. The struggle was not settled until two were out in the last half of the ninth. Then Traynor, who played the full game after an absence of two weeks because of an injured finger, broke the spell with a single. The younger of the Waner brothers, taking his only time at bat, smacked a double into left centre to bring home the winning run.

Up to the seventh game was a magnificent pitching duel between Remy Kremer and Jim Elliott.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
NEW YORK, July 21.—Harry Boerner and Wiley Moore, rookie and veteran pitchers of the lowly Boston Red Sox, ended the Yankees' five-game winning streak today as they pitched the last place club to a 3-2 victory over the league leaders. They allowed two hits apiece, Boerner working the first seven innings, and Moore getting credit for the victory by battling the last two. Pickering's double and Warstler's single off Eddie Wells, in the ninth, scored the winning run. R. H. E. Stewart held the Mackmen to four hits. He allowed only one hit in the first seven innings, and halted a two-run rally in the eighth by causing Fox to hit into a double play with two on base.

Mahaffey pitched the first eight innings for the Athletics, issuing five passes, three of which the Browns converted into runs. ## B.C. RACE BETS FLOW STEADILY

Over $750,000 Wagered in Two Weeks at Two of Mainland Tracks

Fourteen days racing at two Vancouver tracks, between July 1 and July 16 last, saw a total of $763,654 wagered by the public on its favorite horses. Announced yesterday by the Provincial Department of Finance, the figures show that $364,532 was wagered at Lansdowne Park between July 1 and July 8, and $399,122 at Brighouse Park between July 9 and July 16. The highest single day's wagers were $79,941, at the last day at Brighouse, and the lowest $41,961, on a Tuesday at the same track.

While the exact figures for last year are not immediately available, the Government's receipts through the pari-mutuel tax are slightly more than was returned last year for the same two weeks, the 7 per cent tax producing very little more than the 5 per cent levy in 1931. Returns to the Government for the three months held so far in the province this year are up to what was estimated from this source. All of the money raised by the tax is distributed later to the municipalities. Brighouse Park wagers were as follows: July 1, $79,975; July 2, $55,515; July 4, $50,135; July 5, $48,574; July 6, $48,743; July 7, $52,725, and July 8, $48,865; total, $364,532. Brighouse Park wagers were: July 9, $67,299; July 11, $42,223; July 12, $41,961; July 13, $51,375; July 14, $54,037; July 15, $43,186, and July 16, $79,941; total, $399,122.

NANAIMO HONORS BOWLING CHAMPS

Banquet Tendered to R.C. and Island Titleholders and Veteran W. Barrie

NANAIMO, July 21.—The Nanaimo Lawn Bowling Club members gathered in the clubhouse last evening for a social time to do honor to winners of trophies at the recent bowling tournaments held in Vancouver and Victoria, and also William Barrie, one of the oldest members, who is leaving for his native Scotland in the near future. Supper was served by the members of the Women's Club. Following supper, President Joe Dixon called the company to order and briefly complimented Mrs. Pauls, winner of the Wenger Cup, emblematic of the women's championship of Vancouver Island, Mrs. Pauls replying briefly, Mr. Dixon next complimented Messrs. Barrie, Evans, R. C. Barrie and J. Robertson in bringing, for the second year in succession, the Nabob Cup to Nanaimo. He then paid tribute to W. ## Stock Leaders Show Increasing Strength At Eastern Markets

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP).—Stocks pulled themselves up by their bootstraps today. Thanks, largely to the strength of food, tobacco and oil shares, the market closed with gains averaging a point.

Preferred stocks again strengthened, although much of the trading was in odd lots. However, there were net gains of 2 1/2 to 6 1/2 points in senior equities of Union Pacific, Santa Fe, American Sugar, Eastman, General Baking, Lowry, Sun Oil and Case, among others.

Stella Fe and Union Pacific common were each up more than a point net, while National Biscuit American Tobacco "B," Liggett & Myers "B," Standard Oil of Kansas, Texas Corporation and California Standard made an average rise of about one.

U.S. Steel, American Telephone, Dupont, Westinghouse, Case, Atlantic Refining, Union Carbide, General Motors, Consolidated Gas and North American firmed fractionally. The market closed at its highest level of the month.

The bond market advanced all along the line.

While the average for sixty selected securities gained eight-tenths of a point—the most pronounced recovery since June 4—the sales volume was comparatively light and somewhat smaller than that of yesterday. Sales totaled $10,936,000 par value.

Industrials led the upturn. The railroads and utilities followed with average gains about equal.

German Government obligations absorbed the bulk of trading in the foreign department, advancing around 2 points at one time, but later receding.

The United States Government 1st bond active in late trading, and practically all of the Federal advanced moderately. In the foreign, the Australians and Argentinians rallied sharply.

HIVES-URTICARIA

There may be some individuals who have never had a single attack of the hives or urticaria as it is called, but most of us, if we will go back far enough, will likely remember one or more attacks.

That an attack of the hives can be brought on any time by some individuals is only too true because they have learned that certain foods will cause urticaria every time they are eaten. Such foods as strawberries, eggs, shell fish and other excellent foods just will not agree with their systems, set up a sort of poisoning, and hives appear.

An interesting point has, however, been discovered by some of these sufferers. Much to their surprise and satisfaction they find that they are now able to eat some of these foods that formerly caused the hives. While this is due in some cases to the fact that their system has got used (acclimated) to these foods, in other cases it is because they have had some infection cleared from the system—infected teeth, tonsils, gall bladder and so forth. It was this infection that prevented the system from handling certain foods properly and so hives appeared.

It is known that urticaria may be caused by certain foods, by the use of certain drugs, by the serum used in lockjaw, diphtheria, tuberculosis and others; in certain ailments such as malaria, rheumatism, asthma, whooping cough and other children's diseases, complicating skin ailments such as scabies—the itch, and by a bite or sting of mosquito, bee, wasp or other insect.

What about treatment? About a year ago I spoke of the results obtained by Dr. L. Dinkin, Berlin, by the use of the ordinary baking soda in doses of two to three level teaspoonsful, three times a day, after meals.

However, as most of the cases arise from something that has been eaten, the first thought should be to rid the system of this substance by the use of Epsom or Rochelle salts.

Local treatment is the use of warm baths, in which one or two handfuls of washing soda have been placed.

In severe cases, where swelling of mouth or throat might cause suffocation, a few drops of adrenalin is injected into the skin by the physician.

She—Of me! Impossible.

What Today Means

"CANCER"

If July 22 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:30 a.m. to 10 a.m., from 2:45 p.m. to 4 p.m., and from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. The danger periods are from 11 a.m. to 12:35 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Astrological portents for July 22 show little or no worry to disturb your equanimity, and events that seem to augur trouble will be, in disguise, harbingers of good fortune. An accident is threatened, but from this will spring a friendship which will, if you are young, result in a much closer relationship.

The child born on this July 22 will be very much influenced by its environment, and will have a transcendent nature. It will be either very hilarious and happy or completely in the Slough of Despond; there is no happy medium in its temperament. Its speech, like its actions, will be exaggerated.

Nature endowed you with intelligence, and, in addition, you possess a fund of common sense and are persevering and ambitious. Difficulties only serve to spur you to further effort. Failure is a word that does not figure in your vocabulary. You invariably get what you want, and do so without hurting others or poaching on neighbors' preserves. Your character is of a high order, and a natural kindness of disposition enters you to all with whom you come in contact. Your likes and dislikes are sometimes too pronounced in nature, and lead you sometimes into error—more of omission than commission.

In spite of the success that usually attends your efforts, you are modest and always willing to concede to others any credit they may deserve for assistance rendered you.

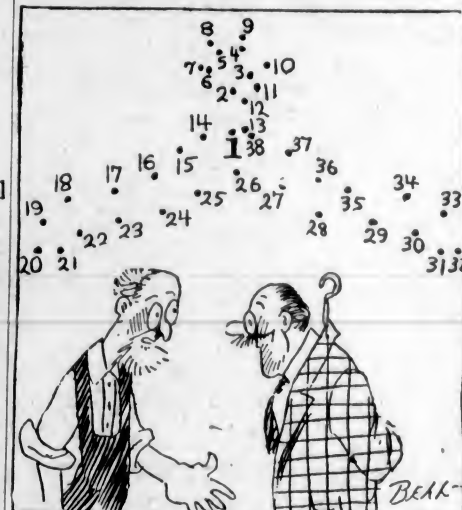

If a woman, you are gifted with intuition in a marked degree, and so long as you follow its lead, you will not make many mistakes of judgment. July 22 men and women are destined to fill useful roles in the world, and will bring happiness and contentment to the circles in which they move and have their being.

VIKING'S GRAVE UNEARTHED

During excavation for the foundations for a private dwelling near Nesna, South Norway, a Viking grave, dating from about 900 A.D., has been found. The human skeleton unearthed is that of an important chieftain of the Norwegian Iron Age. Buried with him were his horse and his boots, evidently with the full pomp and rites of his race. The chieftain's skeleton is comparatively intact.

"Porter, can't you stop that noise in the corridor? I can't sleep."
"Very soon now, sir. The brigade has the fire under control."

ENGLISH BOYS TO COME HERE

Lord Douglas-Hamilton Arrives to Arrange for Visit in August

A party of about thirty English schoolboys will visit Canada this fall for the purpose of gaining first-hand information with regard to the Dominion and its resources. Lord Nigel Douglas-Hamilton, arrived in Victoria yesterday in connection with the tour and made arrangements for a stay of about three or four days in this city by this party. He expects that the boys will be arriving here about August 29.

The tour which Lord Douglas-Hamilton is planning is the ninth one organized under the Public School Empire-Tour Committee.

is the second trip made to Canada. The other tours have visited South Africa, India, Australia and other parts of the British Dominions. The boys come from the big English public schools, including Charterhouse, Eton, Harrow, Lancing and Westminster.

CONDUCTED PARTY

The director of the party will be Lieut.-Col. J. D. Hills, assistant master at Eton College, who has with him W. D. Davies, of Radley College, now an officer in the 60th Rifles. Lord Douglas-Hamilton, who has been making the arrangements across Canada for the coming of the party, will return and meet the group upon its arrival in Montreal on August 5. He will accompany the party throughout the trip across Canada.

The object of the tour is primarily educational; there can be no better "finishing school" for an English schoolboy than a visit to one of the Dominions," says Lord Douglas-Hamilton. "His imagination, outlook and sense of proportion are broadened, and he is brought into direct contact with the realities of Imperial history, geography, politics and economics. Some of the boys may make their homes in Canada. Others, in due course, may undertake work in Parliament or some branch of public service at home. For them the knowledge and experience gained on the tour will be of inestimable advantage, enabling them to approach various problems with sympathetic understanding.

The boys are looking forward with the keenest interest to meeting those descendants of their own ancestors who have at various times left England to build their great overseas Empire, and whose adventurous spirit they have always regarded with envious admiration. Perhaps, too, Canadians will be glad to welcome these representatives of one of the oldest institutions of the Empire."

Lord Douglas-Hamilton flew over from the Mainland yesterday morning by plane and is leaving again today.

GYROS TO HOLD BASKET PICNIC

Club Members and Friends Will Participate in Outing to Salt-Spring Island Sunday

A most extensive programme of sports and entertainment for young and old has been prepared for members of the Victoria Gyro Club, their wives and children, who will attend the annual basket picnic of the club to be held at Burgoyne Bay, Salt-Spring Island, on Sunday.

Through the kindness of Harold B. Elworthy, of the Island Tug & Barge Company, the party will be conveyed from Swartz Bay to the island by a tug and barge, and will have more than six hours on the island.

The tug will leave Swartz Bay at 10:45 a.m., and during the trip over the water, which lasts about an hour and twenty minutes, radio and orthophonic music and a variety of entertainment will be supplied. During the afternoon a sports programme will be staged, and the return trip to Swartz Bay will commence at 6 p.m. Those attending the picnic will motor to Swartz Bay.

An energetic committee, under the chairmanship of Leonard Woodhouse, has been actively engaged in preparing for the outing. The committee members are Louis Glass, R. L. Chalmers and William C. Hudson.

OVERSEAS TRAVELER ARDENTLY SUPPORTS EMPIRE PROTECTION

Lawrence Clarke Tipper, M.P.C.V.S., of Birmingham, who is in the city with the British National Union party, claims to be an Empire protectionist for perhaps a longer period than any other man. He proudly wears a brass button which was presented to him six years ago for his work in this direction. In 1881 he assisted in the formation of the Fair Trade League in Birmingham, which, he says, far antedated any activity by Joseph Chamberlain.

At that time Mr. Chamberlain was the Liberal member for Birmingham and, replying to a request from the league for assistance in the direction in which it was working, denounced any such move.

Mr. Tipper, in 1906, contested the Ilkeston division of Derbyshire as a Unionist in what was regarded as a hopeless fight. He was defeated, but took pride in contesting the seat owing to the opposition he had to face.
